To Pastor John Campbell and Brothers and Sisters in Christ at First Baptist Church:

I read the gracious letter you sent to our church family a couple of Sundays ago. Know for sure that once I was done reading it, they were most appreciative, as your letter was applauded. This showed them that our Brothers and Sisters at First Baptist Church share a kinship with us that is shared because of the blood of Jesus Christ.

Thank you for recognizing the pain and frustration that we have experienced and continue to experience following the murder of George Floyd. And you are right, it is not new by any means, but it is at the point where most of us both inside of our church family and community have decided that enough is enough.

I want to especially thank Pastor John for reaching out so we could begin the first of, I hope, several conversations that can expand past the pastors' studies into the pews, in the interest of true Christian brotherhood, that can help all of us continue to learn the meaning of true fellowship.

Due to the current pandemic climate, joint fellowships at this time are difficult if not next to impossible. However, we can find avenues in which to talk, understand and pray together that can enhance our mutual relationship in Christ.

All of us at St. Paul pray for God's continued blessings upon you, as together, we continue to build His glorious Kingdom while we are still here on earth.

Sincerely,
PASTOR JM Clark and the St. Paul Family
