

Proposed Men's Retreat

July 19,20,21 2018

Why: Gather together to observe and appreciate God's creation in the companionship of other Christians.

Where: Muddy Guard Cabin, Big Horn Mtns, Wy. Cabin is about 30 minutes west of Buffalo, Wy on Hwy 16.

Who: Any males, old, young, or in between, who want to get together in the great outdoors for fun, fellowship and spiritual connection.

Camp description: Camp has somewhat rustic theme with electricity, a small refrigerator, electric cook stove, wood heating stove as well as a fire ring and a picnic table outside. Cabin has four (4) single bunk beds and one double bed. There is room for a couple of cots if we need more sleeping space, as well as room outdoors for tents and a couple of campers. There is a vault toilet but no running water, so we will bring our own water. There is a stream nearby as a water source for washing, etc. We will need to bring bottled water for drinking and sleeping bags.

What to do: Enjoy scenery, hike, bike, fish Crazy Woman or Muddy creeks, drive Crazy Woman Canyon, gather by the fire, commune with god's creation and each other. No set agenda!

Logistics: Carpool or individual transportation. If we get a group, Tom Wing is planning on going over on Thursday to set up and we will put together a menu prior to going.

Cost: Cabin costs $40 a night to be shared by those going.

SO: Those interested in this trip, need to let Tom know by this Sunday(Easter). This cabin is VERY popular and these were the only dates available, so I need to reserve it ASAP. If you are interested in going, contact Tom Wing (605-515-0949).
