

CHRIST COVENANT CHURCH

Church: What's the Value?

What are you looking for in a church? What would the “ideal” church look like in your mind? It is a place with:

- music that fits your style? Is your style a choir and violin? Or would you prefer guitars, up-to-date style, contemporary worship?
- preaching that hits you just right? There are many different kinds of styles in evangelical churches, is there one you are looking for?
- folks at your stage of life? Perhaps it's not just one person (the preacher) you are looking for, but a host of folks at the same stage as you...
- programs where you might find a place to serve? Opportunities to help with children? Programs that will keep your kids engaged?

There are many more things that you could be looking for: a certain feel, a kind of architecture that creates reverence and awe in your heart; a place that reminds you of the church you attended as a child... or perhaps a place that does the opposite.

What are you looking for? Another way to put it may be, “What do you value in a church?” It's a very important question. And not just for pastors, but for all of those who seek to follow Jesus and are part of the people of God.

At CCC, we believe God designed the church to be fundamentally a display of His own glory and wisdom (Ephesians 3:10). And we think He has deliberately structured that display in the shape of a loving community that illustrates for a watching world the close fellowship of the Trinity and the redemption that He has accomplished for us in Christ Jesus (John 13:34-35).*

We would love for you to come and join us to see how we are trying to live together as a church that puts God's glory on display. The first step would be to join us on Sunday Morning each week and on Sunday Nights (2nd and 4th Sundays) to observe our fellowship.

Second, you are welcome to contact Bradley Aucoin (Senior Pastor), any time to discuss our church and what we are doing as a local church committed to putting God's glory on display as we gather as a church family. Everyone has preferences, styles, takes. We by no means feel like we have the perfect combination for every person. But we do want to strive for unity on the gospel and reflect the diversity of the body of Christ. Please contact us with any questions you may have.

You can also attend one of our Prospective Members Classes to hear more about our church, what we believe, and how we are seeking to live together as a church family.
