Hello Church Family,

March 21, 2019

We already miss you so much. We are in unprecedented times, this is a great time to read and study your Bible and talk to God. We have no idea when we will be able to meet again, but God never fails. We are not meant to live in a spirit of fear, and we know that God is with us.

That being said, we believe that the right thing to do is to follow the recommendations of our civic leaders. We understand that many of us have been placed in stressful situations and are in need of help. We encourage you to communicate with us and each other to the best of your ability. There are resources and help can be made available. We are all in this together.

In love,
