

Amber Stites, Director of Women's Ministries

I have been serving as the Director of Women's Ministry here, at North Park Church, since 2009.

My husband, Andy, and I met at Grove City college, where I majored in elementary education and Andy majored in electrical engineering. After graduating we moved to Frederick, MD, near Andy's family. I taught 5th and 6th grade at a private, Christian school until having our first child.

We currently have four children, Lana, Caleb, Lily and Bekah. In addition to my role as Women's Ministry director, I homeschool these precious kiddos and tutor grammar science at Blackburn Study Center one day a week.

Prior to NPC, Andy, and I were very involved in a church plant in Frederick, MD where we helped with both the children's ministry and the youth ministry. We relocated from Maryland to the Pittsburgh area in 2005. Having served women for the past few years, I am so grateful to have found my niche, and God continues to grow my love for His beloved daughters.
