THE PARABLE OF THE WICKED TENANTS

I have chosen you from the world, says the Lord, to go and bear fruit that will last. John 15.16

FROM OUR PASTOR

Matthew 21:33-43

The three readings of today speak of a God who cultivates his people with patient care, who justly expects fruit in return, and who does not turn away even when that fruit is withheld. These three readings summon us to examine what our lives are yielding in response to God's patient care.

The prophecy of Isaiah (Is. 5:1-7) presents the Song of the Vineyard as a love song that turns, without warning, into a legal indictment against an unfaithful people. Isaiah reminds us that such care justly expects fruit measured in justice and righteousness, not in violence disguised as either.

The letter to the Philippians (Phil. 4:6-9) offers practical guidance for overcoming anxiety through prayer, thanksgiving and disciplined attention to whatever is good. St. Paul teaches us to turn anxiety into grateful prayer, so that a peace beyond our own understanding may stand guard over heart and mind.

Matthew warns against the quiet presumption that treats what God has entrusted to us as though it were ours outright — a presumption that can end in the rejection of his messengers and, ultimately, of his Son.

The stone once discarded becomes the cornerstone of a new community, and upon our response to that Son our place within the vineyard finally depends.

Lord of the vineyard, make us fruitful in justice and steadfast in prayer, and let the Son once rejected be the sure cornerstone on which we build our lives, that the peace which surpasses understanding may guard our hearts until the harvest comes. Amen.

OCTOBER—MONTH OF THE ROSARY

We pray Holy Rosary 30 minutes before each Mass, during weekends. Please come in time to be part of the Rosary. We will have ten weekday evening Rosary and Holy Mass, led by the Catechism kids (October 19 – 23; and 26 to 30).

KOFC WHEELCHAIR DRIVE

I express my appreciation towards our support for the wheelchair drive last Sunday. Donations are still coming in. Watch next weekend's bulletin for total donations received. God bless all of you.

TWO SEMINARIANS

Corpus Christi Parish welcomes two seminarians from St Joseph's Seminary; Kiefer Sjogren from the Archdiocese of Edmonton, and Adam Kucharski from the Diocese of Calgary. As part of their pastoral formation they will observe and attend the RCIA program (adult faith formation) in our parish over the coming year to know more about it, and participate with the team of catechists. Further introductions in upcoming bulletins. We extend to them a warm welcome.

PASTOR'S HOLIDAY

I am leaving for my holidays to India on Sunday, October 4, returning November 6. In my absence, Fr. Rijo will be in charge of the parish.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Re: Pastoral Letter on the Alberta Referendum

As Albertans prepare to participate in the referendum on October 19th, we invite the Catholic faithful to approach this civic responsibility with prayer, an informed conscience, and sincere concern for their neighbours. As your bishops, we offer these reflections to assist your discernment in the light of the Gospel and the social teaching of the Church.

Our pastoral responsibility is to proclaim the Gospel and guide the formation of conscience. The Church remains independent of political parties and systems, while addressing the moral questions that arise in public life. The lay faithful have a particular responsibility to bring Christian wisdom and sound judgement to these matters (Gaudium et Spes, nos. 43, 76).

Loving our neighbour and respecting human dignity

Jesus commands us to love God with our whole heart and our neighbour as ourselves (Matthew 22:37–39). Through the parable of the Good Samaritan, He teaches us to extend compassion beyond familiar boundaries and respond to those in need (Luke 10:25–37). This love must guide our decisions and our conduct towards those whose views differ from our own.

Every person is created in the image of God and possesses an inherent dignity. Human life is sacred from conception to natural death. A person's worth does not depend on citizenship, income, ability, or contribution to society. We ask you to consider particularly how the proposals may affect children, people living in poverty, the sick, and those who are isolated.

Committing to the common good

The common good concerns the conditions that enable individuals, families, and communities to flourish. It requires respect for fundamental rights, access to the necessities of life, and peace grounded in justice (Catechism of the Catholic Church, nos. 1906–1909). Decisions concerning health care, education, and public resources should promote equitable access and responsible stewardship, with due regard for future generations.

Recognizing the dignity of migrants and newcomers

The Church teaches that more prosperous nations are obliged, to the extent they are able, to welcome those seeking safety and the means of livelihood. Public authorities also have a responsibility to regulate immigration for the common good. Newcomers, in turn, have duties towards the society that receives them (Catechism, no. 2241).

Legitimate concerns about resources and access to public services merit careful consideration. They must be addressed in ways that respect human dignity and avoid making any segment of our population the object of resentment or blame. Within our parishes, those who feel uncertain about their place in society should find welcome and pastoral care.

Being responsible to one another

The principles of solidarity and subsidiarity can guide our reflection on Alberta's relationship with the wider Canadian community. Solidarity calls us to accept responsibility for one another, including those beyond our own region. Subsidiarity respects the responsibilities that families and local communities can fulfil themselves, with support from larger bodies when needed. It also respects the proper roles of different levels of government (Compendium of the Social Doctrine of the Church, nos. 185–188, 192–196).

These principles encourage cooperation and accountability. Our discernment must also include attentive listening to Indigenous peoples, respect for their rights, and a continuing commitment to reconciliation.

Forming our conscience

The formation of conscience requires a sincere search for truth through prayer, Scripture, reason, and the teaching of the Church (Catechism, nos. 1783–1785). We encourage you to study each question carefully, seek reliable information, and consider the likely consequences of your decision. The following questions may assist your reflection:

How will this decision affect others, particularly those who are most vulnerable?

Have I considered the good of others alongside my own interests?

To what extent might fear, anger, or resentment be influencing my judgement?

What kind of society or community are we building for future generations through this choice?

Catholics may reach different judgements about the practical means of advancing the common good. Such differences do not diminish our shared obligation to uphold human dignity and remain faithful to the moral teaching of the Church.

Promoting dialogue and prayerful participation

Our public witness requires patient listening, truthful speech, and respect for others. Differences of judgement must not become occasions to demean another person or call their faith into question. Our families and parishes should be places where difficult questions can be discussed with charity. Whatever the outcome, our responsibilities to one another will endure.

We encourage all eligible Catholics to participate in the referendum with a prayerful commitment to the common good. We ask our communities to pray for voters, public officials, and all whose lives may be affected. May our participation bear witness to our hope in Christ and His call to be peacemakers (Matthew 5:9).

Lord Jesus Christ, guide our minds in truth and our hearts in charity. Grant us wisdom to discern what is just, courage to care for the vulnerable, and humility to listen to one another. Help us to serve the common good and to live in Your peace. Amen.

NEW ALBERTA HEALTH SERVICES PROTOCOLS FOR CLERGY HOSPITAL VISITS

Due to FOIP related protocol amendments with Alberta Health Services (AHS), patients in hospital must be registered as Catholic and have digitally signed consent to receive visits from their faith community coordinated by Spiritual Health Practitioners. If the patient is unable to sign, a family member may do so on their behalf. Without signed consent, the in-hospital Spiritual Health Practitioner cannot contact the clergy on-call.

Regardless of the new AHS protocols, patients and families may still make private arrangements for a priest/deacon to visit.

Helping to pay off our church mortgage!

If you spend $600/month on groceries, buy $600 each month of grocery gift cards. The church profits about 7% to pay on the mortgage; 7% of $600 is $42.

In one year, you could be giving $42 x 12 months = $504 to pay the mortgage.

If 1,000 of our parish families did the same, in one year, we would have $504 x 1,000 = $504,000

This benefit to the church creates no additional cost to you, our parishioners!

STEWARDSHIP CORNER

This weekend's Gospel reading poses some challenging stewardship questions, particularly at a time when so many people are becoming disengaged from their faith communities. When Christ returns, will we be found working diligently in the Lord's "vineyard," converting our own hearts into a rich harvest of love and compassion? Calling those outside our vineyard to enter into the joy of the Lord? Or will we just be living off of what the Lord has given us, but not sharing God's love with others? Jesus' parable suggests that if we aren't good stewards of the gifts we've been given then the gifts will be taken away, and we will be called to give an account for our failures. We have all we need for a bountiful harvest, even during these disquieting times. What will our Lord find when He returns and asks us to give an account?
