LOVE

Snuggle in close...

This week, our inspiration comes from Iceland where a “book flood” takes place every year. Icelanders love books and they love to share books with others. Snuggle in close with your family and read your favorite books together. You could also find your favorite version of the Christmas story in the Bible and be reminded of what this week is all about - God’s extravagant love poured out for all of us through Jesus.

If you are feeling real creative, build a special fort complete with blankets, pillows, and hot cocoa to get comfy in. But maybe snuggling in the biggest bed in the house or the family couch will do the trick.
