

Seafarers are the invisible essential workers!

Over 1.5 million seafarers are working at sea to transport over 90% of the world's goods that keep the store shelves stocked and the economy moving.

Especially during this pandemic, those working at sea need our help.

- Seafarers are not being allowed off of their ships for shore leave.
- Many have been working months past their contracts because they are unable to go home.
- Loneliness and depression have become major concerns as seafarers are separated from their families for up to a year.

Global Maritime Ministries continues to meet the spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of seafarers at the Port of New Orleans and the Port of South Louisiana. Through the use of technology, we have stayed connected with seafarers to encourage them and pray for them. We have led online Bible studies and trained believers at sea to do the same. We are delivering personal items to crews in need. We try to go the extra mile to bring peace during this chaotic time and to share the Hope that is the Anchor for our souls.

Port Ministry

Our ministry needs your support to continue meeting the many needs of seafarers. For details on how to get involved, visit PortMinistry.com.

Seafarers are the invisible essential workers!

Over 1.5 million seafarers are working at sea to transport over 90% of the world's goods that keep the store shelves stocked and the economy moving.

Especially during this pandemic, those working at sea need our help.

- Seafarers are not being allowed off of their ships for shore leave.
- Many have been working months past their contracts because they are unable to go home.
- Loneliness and depression have become major concerns as seafarers are separated from their families for up to a year.

Global Maritime Ministries continues to meet the spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of seafarers at the Port of New Orleans and the Port of South Louisiana. Through the use of technology, we have stayed connected with seafarers to encourage them and pray for them. We have led online Bible studies and trained believers at sea to do the same. We are delivering personal items to crews in need. We try to go the extra mile to bring peace during this chaotic time and to share the Hope that is the Anchor for our souls.

Port Ministry

Our ministry needs your support to continue meeting the many needs of seafarers. For details on how to get involved, visit PortMinistry.com.