How Does God Use You?

As we conclude our Sacred Pathways series, we'll explore three more ways people draw near to God: through mystery and celebration, through the mind, and through adoration. But the goal has never been simply to discover "our" pathway—it's to draw near to God so that His love can move through us toward others. God has uniquely created each of us, and He invites us to use who we are to love, serve, and bless the people around us.
