MISSION CRITICAL

Eric Lynch

Whenever we think about the church, there are many things that come to mind. The preaching (whether dull or engaging), the fellowship, or perhaps it's the building. But what about the gospel? This is, after all, the very heartbeat and center of the church, its source and life. The church never outgrows the gospel; she only matures in it. In essence, it is both the beginning and the end of the church. It's what gives us our strength and hope in the midst of adversity and trial. Paul is able to sing while imprisoned because of it. The gospel is also our message that we proclaim to one another and to the world. Want to know what the church thinks or desires to say? It's the gospel. It's about seeing dead men raised to new life by the blood of Jesus Christ and living for him. This is what's supposed to happen inside the church: when the bland meal of the world comes in contact with the church, the saltiness of the gospel within it gives it new flavor.

This is our mission. Mark 16 tells us to “proclaim the gospel to the whole creation.” The thesis of the whole book of Acts says, “you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.” And the most famous of all, at the end of Matthew, we have the Great Commission to “make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.” The gospel should be what saturates the church to its deepest levels. It should fill our relationships, our speech, and our preaching. Ultimately, what will determine a church’s faithfulness to and effectiveness for the kingdom of God is whether or not it’s clinging to the gospel of Jesus Christ and upholding its truth. When you look at our church, you should first and foremost hear the gospel, but then you should see it.

Brothers and sisters, let us be a people who are shaped by the gospel, who cherish it, and then give it away. Because when we do, we become the kind of church that glorifies Jesus with not just an hour and fifteen minutes once a week, but with our entire lives. Amen.

Serving a Faithful God

By Darrel Kootstra

Anyone who has been a part of a church body for any length of time realizes there are plenty of volunteer opportunities available to them, and our church is no different.

During a recent worship service, Adam Mackey listed off the various church ministries within our church and requested the volunteers of those ministries to stand. It was wonderful to see how many people give of their time and talents, often serving in more than one ministry. It gave us an opportunity to thank and recognize our volunteers, but also allowed us to reflect on God's faithfulness to this church body for the past 114 years.

Undoubtedly, there are opportunities for each of us to serve God in ways that may be outside of our comfort zone. Some may be asked to teach, others may be asked to prepare meals or visit someone in the hospital, others might be asked to serve on the church council. You may not feel qualified to serve in the capacity for which you will be asked to serve, however, we need to realize that others tend to see our gifts before we see them in ourselves. Therefore, if asked to serve, I ask that you prayerfully consider God's calling before making a decision.

Let me leave you with something I read not that long ago. It isn't a direct quote but it may make a difference when you are considering a volunteer opportunity...

God does not call the qualified; He qualifies the called. If God is calling you into a ministry, He will provide you with the exact tools you will need during a season of personal growth.

Notes from Pastor Vince

Worshipping the “Great I Am”

When we worship, we are not simply singing songs, listening to music, or gathering together as a church. We are responding to the God who has revealed Himself as the “Great I Am.” He is the God who was, who is, and who always will be—unchanging, faithful, and completely worthy of our praise.

In Exodus 3:14, when Moses asked God what name he should give the Israelites, God answered, “I AM WHO I AM” or the “LORD” (all capital letters). This name reveals something profound about God. He does not depend upon anyone or anything else for His existence. He is eternal, self-sufficient, and sovereign. Everything we are and everything we have ultimately comes from Him.

Jesus also identified Himself with this divine name. In John 8:58, Jesus declared, “Before Abraham was, I am.” Through Christ, we encounter the same eternal God who spoke to Moses. The Great I Am came among us, lived among us, died for us, and rose again so that we could have new life through Him.

Worshipping the Great I Am means recognizing that God deserves more than an hour on Sunday. Our worship extends into every part of our lives. We worship when we trust Him instead of giving in to fear. We worship when we obey His Word even when it is difficult. We worship when we serve others, show grace, forgive, give generously, and live with grateful hearts.

Psalm 95:6 calls us, “Come, let us bow down in worship, let us kneel before the LORD our Maker.”

The Great I Am is worthy of our songs, our prayers, our obedience, our gratitude, and our entire lives. He is faithful when circumstances change, present when we feel alone, and powerful when we feel weak.

So let us come before Him with humble hearts and joyful voices, declaring with our lives and our worship: He is the Great I Am—and He is worthy!

We Read

“The Lord your God is with you,
the Mighty Warrior who saves.
He will take great delight in you;
in his love he will no longer rebuke you,
but will rejoice over you with singing.”
~ Zephaniah 3:17

We Confess

Belgic Confession

Article 27:

The Holy Catholic Church

“...This church has existed from the beginning of the world
and will last until the end,
as appears from the fact that Christ is eternal King who cannot be without subjects.
And this holy church is preserved
by God against the rage of the whole world...”

We Sing

“Those He saves are His delight
Christ will hold me fast
Precious in His holy sight
He will hold me fast
He'll not let my soul be lost
His promises shall last
Bought by Him at such a cost
He will hold me fast.”

WHY A NEWSLETTER?

Our FOCUS is to keep the members of First CRC informed and engaged with the direction and vision of our church. Our purpose is always to love and serve our Lord, Jesus Christ, and as a result, to make more and better disciples. This publication highlights that mission in motion through our past milestones, current ministries, and future plans. Prayerfully read through these issues to discover where your unique gifts may fit into our shared mission and, if you haven't already, connect with one of the pastors or ministry leaders for information on how to get involved.

Thoughts from Pastor Andy

Head, Heart, and Hands

“Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book; but these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name.” -John 20:30–31

John wrote his gospel so that we might have life in the name of Jesus Christ. Without Christ, even as we breathe we are dead. For in our sin, we detach ourselves from the source of all life and goodness.

Therefore, we should care deeply about what scripture says. Life Groups this year will follow a different format from what we’ve done in the past. We will begin as we have before, digging into the text to answer the question “What Does God’s Word Say?” This is the “Head” part of the study. It’s all about understanding God’s word. If we don’t know what God is saying, then we can’t apply his word to our lives.

As John Calvin points out, we cannot know ourselves without knowing God, and we cannot know God without knowing ourselves. Therefore, the next section of the Life Group study will be focused on answering the question, “What is God’s Heart?” This is the “Heart” part of the study. As Christians, we should know what’s important to God, and what’s important to God should be important to us.

If we understand God’s word and God’s heart, then we should be driven to action. So, the final section of the Life Group answers the question, “What is God Calling Us to Do?” This is the “Hands” part of the study. How does God’s love, grace, justice, and mercy lead us to use our gifts to glorify God?

I pray you will join a Life Group if you haven’t already. Please also consider either hosting or leading a Life Group. The more groups we have, the more we can disciple to fulfill our mission of making more and better disciples!

LIFE GROUPS AT FIRST CRC

Our Goal is To have every member of our church involved in a Life Group or other similar small group Bible study.

Spiritual growth will flow out of two basic principles:

- Being committed to knowing God and His Word.
- Being committed to building significant Christian relationships.

➡ Life Groups are a key component of First CRC's mission and vision. Here, individuals can connect more deeply with one another in a warm, supportive environment founded securely on the Word of God, the Bible.

➡ Each group is comprised of approximately 8 to 12 people, and are committed to meeting 7 weeks per session, three times a year (Fall, Winter & Spring).

➡ Life Groups are a structured yet casual Bible study that fosters spiritual health, the building of meaningful friendships, and the development of a supportive network with others who seek to be more like Jesus.

Kings Gospel Mission (KGM) is a faith-based, non-profit organization located in Hanford, California, serving as Kings County's primary homeless rescue mission.

October Offering Schedule

- 4 Benevolence
- 11 Kings Gospel Mission
- 18 General
- 25 Faith Promise

Benevolence Ministry

As part of our routine monthly giving following the celebration of Communion, our Benevolence fund exists to help church members and those in our community with short-term emergency aid. With your generous gifts, last month we were able to provide:

"We helped someone with a hardship and two families with some bills, Monroe School breakfast and a set monthly expense that we pledged to help."

Operating under Cornerstone Community Alcohol & Other Drug Recovery Systems, Inc., the mission takes a holistic approach to fighting poverty, homelessness, and substance abuse through Christian teachings, life skills training, and community rehabilitation

- Emergency Shelter & Relief: Provides overnight shelter beds, hot community meals, and clean shower facilities for individuals experiencing homelessness in Kings County.
- The Academy & Discipleship: Offers a structured, faith-based program rooted in Christian teachings and mentorship to help individuals achieve long-term life transformation and break cycles of poverty.
- Sober Living Programs: Operates accountable, clean-and-sober housing environments to support individuals transitioning out of addiction and into independent living.
- The KGM Street Crew: Partners with local organizations to provide residents with therapeutic work experience and job readiness skills through downtown maintenance and community beautification.
- Community Enterprise: Runs a local thrift store and recycling center that fund mission operations while providing affordable goods and vocational training opportunities.

GEMS

Shelaine Goebel

Just like that, summer is over, and we are back to the regularly scheduled programming of fall activities!

The 2026–2027 season of Gems is off to a strong start, with a full schedule, six new members, and, by the time you read this, our first completed badge of the season under our belt! The girls are always eager to spend these Wednesday evenings together, and I hope to see their enthusiasm for each other and, most importantly, for God, continue to grow as they get older.

Over the lifetime of this club, many things have changed: different leaders and styles of leading, different badge books and badge options, different activities the club has participated in, and different ways of running our meetings. One thing that has remained consistent, however, is our pursuit to do justice, love mercy, and walk humbly with our God.

In response to our aim and the calling we have been given by God, we as counselors take time to read a devotion with the girls each week. Once a month, we also go a little deeper with a Bible lesson from The Ology. We brought back Baby Bundles last year as well, using money we earned from the Soup Supper to purchase baby items to donate to Crossroads Pregnancy Center. This was met with such a positive response from both Crossroads and the girls, and we are really looking forward to blessing them again this coming year.

Another tradition this club has maintained somewhat consistently is the campout. Over the years, it has looked different, ranging from roughing it in tents to glamping at Hartland. Some of my fondest memories from my time as a Calvinette were tent camping at San Simeon and Shaver Lake.

This past year, we decided to join the Visalia CRC Gems for a weekend of camping at the Zwart family ranch in Dinuba. The girls had a blast meeting new Gems, watching an outdoor movie, playing games, learning to barbecue their own dinner, and learning to line dance. Most importantly, they had the opportunity to hear from women of faith about what it looks like to See Him, Seek Him, and Show Him.

We had such a great time with the Visalia girls, and we are excited to do another campout with them this year!

I ask that you keep our club in your prayers. We have so many sweet girls who are eager to learn more about God, and we hope and pray that their eagerness continues to grow and spreads to others; that we, as leaders, are equipped with the right words to share at the right time; and that our club continues to grow and thrive as we plant seeds of the gospel in these girls' hearts. ~ Shelaine

LIBRARY UPDATE

by Jennifer Koelewyn

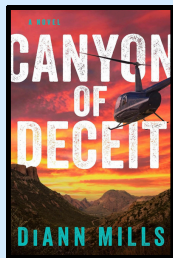

Greetings from your library! We have more books to look at on Christian living, theology, and worship. Come in to see what we have set aside. And new books have arrived, and we are expecting more in October and November. Come on in this Sunday and explore the wide range of books and DVD's we have. Joyce and Judy will be happy to assist you.

New Books Just In!

A Day to Remember Series—When the Sky Burned by Liz Tolsma: This fictional story is based on the true disaster in Peshtigo Wisconsin. Promising painter Mariah Randolph longs to have her canvases displayed in the world's best museums, and accepting the courtship of Hollis Stanford, the heir of a railroad tycoon, may be her ticket to success. The railroad's bookkeeper, Jay Franklin, has discovered discrepancies and is convinced that Hollis Stanford is stealing from the company. But any proof of his dirty dealings goes up in smoke when fire utterly destroys the town of Peshtigo, Wisconsin, on October 8, 1871. The inferno forever changes Mariah's life, but Jay's friendship offers her new hope. Then a trip to Chicago to return Hollis' daughter to him proves to be even more dangerous for Mariah and Jay than the fire that devastated their town and their lives.

Canyon of Deceit by DiAnn Mills: When wilderness survival expert Therese Palmer receives a frantic phone call from a former colleague, Professor Rurik Ivanov, she is hooked to hear his young daughter, Alina, is missing and that Rurik wants Therese's help finding her. She's sure Rurik hasn't given her the whole story....especially since he won't report the kidnapping to the police. Therese can't turn down this mission. She knows time is short and she can't do this along. Therese reaches out to Texas Ranger Blane Gardner. They must fight to rescue Alina before she becomes an innocent casualty of a much bigger plot—no matter the risk to their lives.

Shortbread in the Highlands, Book 3 by Robin Jones Gunn: Cousins Nora and Alice are bound by a friendship that feels more like sisterhood, so when their Gran asks them to travel to Scotland on her behalf to claim an unexpected inheritance and unearth her old diary, they jump at this chance for the trip of a lifetime together. When they arrive in Gran's childhood village, they run into roadblocks but use the delayed schedule to experience the beauty of Scotland. Though they revel in their time together, they find they've brought more baggage than just their suitcases. Allie and Nora must make weighty decisions. Will they learn to rely on the creative purposes of God, even if it means their lives will never be the same?

In Too Deep #2 of Summer Rangers Series by Susan May Warren: Weeks after the discovery of the first Roosevelt treasure cache, the Grand Canyon is overrun by reckless treasure hunters—and someone just paid for it with their life. Dr. Meg Lewis was there when it happened. When a group of hikers goes missing, ranger director Noah Wilde, a widower, assembles a rescue team, with Meg as medical officer. But the hikers aren't alone down there. Someone else is in the cave.

Track of Courage, first in the Call of the Wild Series by Susan May Warren: Pop singer Keely Williams's search for her biological mother in Alaska has been painfully unsuccessful. Now she just wants to escape this wild frontier and never look back. But when her plane is hijacked, she's suddenly plunged into a race against not only an Alaskan blizzard but also a killer who's on her tail.

Books on Theology and Mission

Reading for Preaching by Cornelius Plantinga Jr.: the preacher in conversation with storytellers, biographers, poets, and journalists

Theology The Basics by Alister E. McGrath: This book covers the individual doctrines that form the Christian belief system, weaving together these doctrines, their history, and the intellectual nuance behind them into an inter-connected web. All major Christian denominations are explored, as are their differences and shared customs and beliefs.

God's Mission Vision by John DeVries: Each of the 14 chapters explores one of the ways God's Mission Vision can be described; the final 5 chapters deal with the way Mission India is implementing it.

Biblical Greek, A Compact Guide by William D. Mounce: a hand, at-a-glance reference with summaries of Greek grammar, paradigms, a lexicon, and more.
