

CHARGE CONFERENCE

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH, BRYAN
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10 | 6:00 PM
FELLOWSHIP HALL

Pastor's Corner

Do you recognize what a glorious gift it is to be part of the Global Methodist Church? Participating in our General Conference in Johannesburg, the fire of the Holy Spirit was once again fanned into flame in me.

At Pentecost the tongues of the nation were spoken by the disciples of Jesus. At GC, all our daily written materials had to be translated into nine languages and phone apps were used to translate what was being said. That speaks to the kinship we share when God is our Father. We cannot allow ourselves to be nearsighted: we minister to those right around us, but we are united in ministries around the world. Even our new bishop, Luther Oconer is from the Philippines and will preside globally, overseeing Trinity, Mississippi-West Tennessee, Panama, Tanzania, India, Mega-Manilla, and Philippines Covenant Annual Conferences. Our King lords over all nations.

Every sermon we heard focused on holiness. Global Methodists understand that God draws us into a deeper and deeper relationship. Through the living presence of the Holy Spirit, we are transformed, being made more and more like Jesus, as we conform our lives to his, being filled with his love more completely as put sin to death in our lives. Our bond with Jesus leads us to the experience of entire sanctification, or Christian perfection, and we will not settle for anything less.

What we believe is powerful because of who we believe in. That has become clear through our Articles of Faith. God worked mightily as we discerned together our core doctrines. In fifteen clear and fervent statements we have established what we teach. If you go to any Global Methodist Church in the world, you already know what you will hear: a Wesleyan understanding of the historic orthodoxy tested through the ages.

What we believe reshapes how we live: we are a people on a mission. We share the love of Jesus in word and work. At GC, an awesome work of God went on in the township of Soweto, as Global Methodists from every corner of the world served the children there, feeding their bodies and souls. While the team had prepared for one hundred children, no day saw less than five hundred. Those who were in ministry were humbled at how God pulled off such an awesome wonder.

The Lord is moving in the Global Methodist Church everywhere. We may have a short history, but we are making history, including here in Bryan. I pray that you recognize how Jesus can touch the lives of others through you. The Holy Spirit is stirring so you can embody God's goodness as you meet your neighbors, get to know that new coworker, share time with a student who has just moved here. When the time is ripe and you feel a divine prompting, you can make Jesus real to them with an invitation, helping them in a difficult season of life, or telling them how Jesus has made a difference in your life. Don't overcomplicate it: be real with people and let the Lord become real to them.

Grace and Peace,
Rev. Jonathan Bynum

Celebrating a Legacy of Faith and Service

The Staff Parish Relations Committee extends our gratitude to Natalie Patterson for more than a decade of service at First Methodist Church Bryan. In her role as Director of Adult Ministries & Member Involvement, Natalie touched the lives of countless church members and visitors. As she retires, we wish her great joy, and we know her family will delight in extra time with her. We are blessed that her gifts, abilities, passion for others, and love of the Lord will continue to be used in service throughout our community and here at FMC Bryan alongside her church family.

Thank you, Natalie!

Endowment Spotlight

The Miller Music Trust Endowment: A Legacy of Love and Song

Dorothy Miller, a long-time and devoted member of our church family, lived a life filled with faith, creativity, and an unwavering love for others. Known for her zest for life and gracious spirit, Dorothy shared her journey through the written word as the author of several books. In her autobiography, More Than I Ever Expected, she reflected honestly on the joys and challenges that shaped her, offering readers an inspiring testimony of perseverance and grace. She had a gift for seeing possibility in every circumstance and for turning life's imperfections into opportunities to grow and bless others. First Methodist Church was just one of the passions that was blessed by Dorothy & Jack Miller. In 1987, the Keep Brazos Beautiful organization was formed after years of commitment from the Millers. To name just a few, they spoke to 4H & Youth groups, as well as Scout Troops about taking pride in the community and giving back. Dorothy referenced in the "Keep Brazos Beautiful" formation "A good idea doesn't care who has it, but we're proud to have tossed out a good one".

In 1993, Dorothy Sherrill Miller and her husband, Jack, established the Miller Music Trust Endowment—a reflection of their shared love for music and its power to move hearts and draw people closer to God. Their vision was to ensure that music would continue to play a vital role in worship and in the life of the church for generations to come.

The endowment provides annual support for musical enrichment beyond what is covered by the regular operating budget. Through this generosity, our music ministries have been able to include special instrumental music during traditional services, Easter celebrations, Hanging of the Greens, recitals, choir clinics for both adults and youth, and a variety of other special musical events that uplift and inspire.

Over the years, the Miller Music Trust has made possible the inclusion of guest artists such as The Marian Anderson String Quartet, The Zion Jubilees, and many others whose gifts have enriched our worship and deepened our connection to God through music.

Dorothy's legacy continues to sing through every note, reminding us that music is one of the most beautiful ways to praise the Creator and share His love.

Veteran Voices: Celebrating 250 Years as a Nation

Tony Fazzino / U.S. Air Force

1987 – 2009

What influenced your decision to serve in the military?

I was in the Corps at Texas A&M from 1982 through 1986. Ronald Reagan was president, and I felt a calling to serve this great country I call home. My dad also served in the Air Force after he got out of Texas A&M in the late 1950s. I think that also helped push me in that direction.

What branch did you serve in, and during what years?

I was commissioned in 1987 into the Air Force after graduating from Texas A&M and served until October 2009. Pilot training was one year at Laughlin AFB in Del Rio, Texas, followed by survival school at Fairchild AFB, Washington, for a month or so—good times (sarcasm)—and a few weeks of water survival at Hurlburt Field in Florida. Then I was off to Castle AFB in California for KC-135 training for about four months before being stationed at Barksdale AFB in Louisiana until 1994. KC-135 Stratotanker. (An American Military refueling tanker aircraft) From there, our entire squadron was moved to McConnell AFB in Wichita, Kansas, where I stayed on active duty until 1997. From 1997 to 2009, I served in the Air Force Reserve at McConnell, where I retired.

What is the one experience from your service that helped shape who you are today?

Being deployed for about six or seven years, at five to six months at a time, living in tents most of the time, gave me an appreciation for how good we have it in this country. I think being grateful and thanking God for all the blessings we take for granted is something that stays with me to this day. We always get three meals a day, whatever we want, whatever type of food. We sleep in a bed, and it better be between 70 and 72 degrees, or it's terrible. I don't want to name a bunch of stuff, but if we sat and thought of all the real blessings we have, we would feel ashamed for half of our gripes...and would be on our knees thanking God many times a day.

What skills or lessons from your military service have stayed with you in civilian life?

The flight training followed me to my civilian career, making it an easy transition to civilian life. Working with people as a team on a KC-135 helped later on in the civilian workplace, where we took care of each other at work. It was about taking care of a crew like family.

What does being a Veteran mean to you now?

I feel blessed that I got the chance to serve this great country. I think it just gives me a different perspective on how blessed we are in America, and I pray future generations will feel the same love of country when times get tough.

Is there a person or group you served with that you're especially grateful for?

The older I get, the more reflecting I do. In the last few weeks, I attended the funeral of one buddy and the retirement of another I served with. I am blessed. I spent most of my career with the same folks, and I got to visit with about 40 folks at these events. We told stories, hugged, and shared new stories from after retirement. These folks are like family. When I reflect, I thank God for surrounding me with such awesome folks over such a long career. Half of these guys I still see at work to this day. I was in survival school with one gentleman in 1989 and later at Barksdale and McConnell AFBs. We text regularly just to check on each other, and we got to get together at both the retirement and memorial service. He is really old now...glad I haven't aged a bit.

As we celebrate America's 250th Anniversary, we want to honor the brave men and women of our church who have served in the Armed Forces. We'd love to feature your experiences in our church newsletter. Your stories of courage, sacrifice, and patriotism will inspire our congregation. Please contact Eileen Winkle at eileen@fmcbyran.org to share your story!

Service/Missions Update

Thank you for your continued support of our Mission Moments. On October 4th, Chesed Missions sponsored our segment, highlighting their vital work at Abenezer Orphanage to provide care and protection for abandoned children.

We heard Elizabeth's moving story and witnessed her deep love for the children. Despite the profound heartache, tragedy, and grief these children have endured, Elizabeth reminds them daily that they matter and are loved unconditionally through Jesus.

Currently, the orphanage cares for 12 children, and through your donations, Elizabeth is able to fully support their needs. Since founding Chesed Missions, as many as 6 children have been rescued from life-threatening situations. The primary goal now is to build a permanent home for them. Bill and Brendy Pickler extend their sincere thanks for your continued generosity, which is truly changing these children's lives.

Prayer Ministry

Since we had our healing service this May, you might have noticed people who were there to pray for you at that service. Since then they have been there every Communion Sunday. We at FMC have launched an altar prayer ministry that is available to you every communion Sunday in all worship spaces. Scripture speaks about the importance of praying for each other, "The prayer of a righteous person is powerful and effective" James 5:16. The people on the prayer team went through a 6 week training on how to pray for others at the altar and have practiced how to pray for you.

I know that it can be uncomfortable asking someone to pray for you. In our culture admitting our need is not seen as a virtue. But in Christianity, admitting our need for God and each other is the bedrock of our faith. My hope for you as you're reading this is to take advantage of our prayer ministers! They are here for you and desire to see you encounter Jesus. If you have a need (physical healing, emotional hurt, a fear/anxiety, etc.) take that need to them and have them pray for you at the altar of our Lord Jesus Christ. All you need to do is cup your hands and they will come and pray for you.

If you are interested in possibly serving as a prayer minister, please email me so we can have a conversation about it: jeremy@fmcbyryan.org.

Growing in Faith. Living It Out. Making a Difference.

November is here, bringing with it a season of gratitude and an opportunity to reflect on God's faithfulness! I am thankful for every student and young adult who is part of our ministry and for the parents, volunteers, and church family who invest in the next generation. As we enter this season of thanksgiving, I am reminded that gratitude is more than something we express with words. It is something we demonstrate through how we live, love, give, and serve. Our desire continues to be more than helping students know about Jesus. We want to equip them to know Christ, grow in their faith, and LIVE IT OUT wherever God has placed them.

Diving Deeper

Wednesdays following First Family Dinner

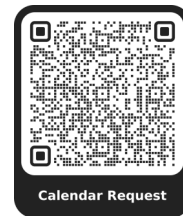

At Diving Deeper, our students are continuing their journey through the New Testament, studying Romans and 1 & 2 Corinthians. Through Scripture, discussion, and prayer, we are discovering how God's Word transforms our hearts, strengthens our faith, and challenges us to live differently.

The Diving Deeper Reading Guide is available on the FMC Youth Ministry webpage at FMCBryan.org/ministries/youth.

Let Me Show Up for Your Student!

One of my favorite parts of youth ministry is supporting our students outside the walls of the church. Football games, basketball, volleyball, band concerts, theater performances, livestock shows, dance, academic events you name it! If your student has an upcoming activity, please use the Youth Activity Calendar Request to share the details. You can find the link on the FMC Youth Ministry webpage. I can't promise to make every event, but I love the opportunity to remind our students that their church family cares about the things that matter to them.

A Word for Parents

Grateful Hearts, Faithful Lives: Stewardship Begins at Home

"Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace in its various forms." — 1 Peter 4:10

November naturally turns our thoughts toward thanksgiving. We pause to recognize God's blessings, gather with family, and express gratitude for what we have been given. But as followers of Jesus, gratitude should lead us beyond simply saying thank you. True gratitude changes how we live. As we gather on Sunday November 1 to renew our commitment as members of the body of Christ here at FMC Bryan. This past month we have been reminded of the vows we recited when we joined the church.

I support the church with my:

- A. Prayers
- B. Presence
- C. Gifts
- D. Service
- E. Witness

Answer: ALL OF THE ABOVE!

Stewardship is often associated with money, but biblical stewardship is about so much more. It is recognizing that everything we have, our time, abilities, resources, relationships, and opportunities are all a gift from God, entrusted to us for His purposes. And perhaps one of the most important places we practice stewardship is within our own families. Our students are watching how we use what God has given us. They notice what we prioritize, what we sacrifice for, how we respond to the needs of others, and whether our faith extends beyond Sunday morning.

They are learning what it means to follow Jesus not only from what we teach them, but from what we model. When we pray for others, we teach them dependence on God. When we make worship and fellowship a priority, we show them the importance of being part of the church family. When we give generously, we demonstrate that our possessions are tools for God's work rather than the source of our security. When we serve, we show them that following Jesus means putting others before ourselves. And when we share our faith through our words and actions, we remind them that the Gospel is too important to keep to ourselves. The goal isn't to raise children who simply attend church. It's to help them become disciples who understand that they have something to contribute to God's Kingdom. A grateful heart recognizes God's blessings. A faithful steward asks how those blessings can be used to glorify Him.

Living Gratitude & Stewardship at Home This month, consider practicing these five commitments as a family:

A. Prayers: Pray with Purpose. Choose a person, family, or ministry to pray for together. Help your student recognize that prayer is one of the most meaningful ways we support the church and one another.

B. Presence: Show Up Faithfully. Make worship, Sunday School, and fellowship priorities. Talk with your student about why being present matters, not just for what we receive, but for how our presence encourages others.

C. Gifts: Practice Generosity. Encourage your student to give from what they have, whether money, resources, talents, or abilities. Help them understand that generosity is not measured by the amount we give, but by the heart behind it.

D. Service: Find a Way to Serve Together. Look for a need in your church or community and respond as a family. Sometimes the most meaningful acts of service are the simplest.

E. Witness: Let Your Faith Be Seen. Encourage your student to share what God is doing in their life. Remind them that kindness, integrity, compassion, and courage can open doors for conversations about Jesus.

Around the Table

Sometime this month, ask your family: "When we think about everything God has given us, how well are we using those blessings to make a difference for Him?" Then consider: "Of the five commitments we have made to our church (prayers, presence, gifts, service, and witness) which one could our family be more intentional about?" Allow everyone to share. You may discover that your student has ideas about serving God that you haven't considered!

A Prayer for Our Families

Heavenly Father, Thank You for the countless blessings You have poured into our lives. Forgive us for the times we take Your gifts for granted or forget that everything we have ultimately belongs to You. Teach our families to live with grateful hearts and generous spirits. Help us recognize that our time, talents, resources, and opportunities are gifts meant to be shared. Give us a renewed commitment to support Your church through our prayers, presence, gifts, service, and witness. May our children see in us an example of faith that is not simply spoken but faithfully lived. Raise up a generation that understands the joy of giving, the importance of serving, and the privilege of being part of Your Kingdom. May our gratitude never stop with words, but overflow into lives that reflect Your love. In Jesus' name, Amen. In Jesus Name; Amen.

Young Adult Ministry: The Vine

Sunday Morning Bible Study

Sundays | 10:00–10:50 AM in Room C211

This fall, The Vine is reading through Goliath Must Fall by Louie Giglio. In Goliath Must Fall, pastor Louie Giglio uncovers a new-found twist in the classic story of David and Goliath. It is not God's plan for you to live with a giant standing in the middle of your life, demoralizing you day after day. Our freedom and God's glory are forever interwoven into one story. God does want us to live free. He wants us to recognize that He's already killed the giant.

In Goliath Must Fall, discover:

- Hope and encouragement that God has a better plan for you—a plan for you to live in victory
- Powerful insights from the Biblical story of David
- How to silence your giants once and for all

The key to living free from our giants is not better slingshot accuracy but keeping our eyes on the one and only giant-slayer—Jesus.

Once you understand the source of your giants, you can ensure that whatever your affliction is, it can, will, and must fall with the power of Jesus. Put your hope in God and watch Goliath fall.
