New This Year!

Our church has recently signed up for a text and email service through a company called Flocknote. This will allow us to promptly and efficiently communicate with you about activities that your student will be taking part in at the church. If you elect to sign up for this service, you will only receive messages that relate to the activities your student is involved in. Neither Flocknote nor Ferguson Avenue Baptist Church will release your information to any outside entities, nobody else will be able to see your number, and replies to any messages will not be sent to you as if you were in a group text. You also will not be bombarded with numerous messages from us, we simply want to be able to communicate important information with you quickly when we need to be able to do so. Most importantly, the sign-up is easy. By providing your phone number and/or your student's phone number and checking the box on the front of the form, you are allowing our staff to sign you up, no additional steps on your part are required. If you have any additional questions about this service, please do not hesitate to contact our church offices.
