This Month's Activities

Spring Into Life is this month's theme. We will be looking at the butterfly life cycle and watching the cycle unfold in our classroom! We will also briefly explore insects, in general, as they begin to appear in warmer weather. Do not be surprised if they bring home some "friends" in their pockets or backpacks! Aside from critters, we will look at the process of plants, especially flowers. As you recall, in late fall, we planted tulip bulbs. The timing could not be more perfect as we have observed their stems and leaves pop up from the ground and are now seeing the flowers bloom.

May will be our Art Show. This means that we will be spending some time working on our art projects during this month. Here's a hint to what the children will be working on: It involves painting. Yes, it's broad, but it will be a surprise!

Final Thoughts

With the winter behind us and spring ahead of us, it seems like time will fly by even quicker as we have many more events planned before the end of the school year. We are really seeing your child/children develop in many positive ways. We are seeing them grow more confident in speaking up for themselves, having more self-control and engaging in conversation whether it is in informal conversation or comprehension of a story or lesson (science or chapel). Thank you parents for the work you are doing at home with them because it shows in the classroom!
