Our Classroom Community:

This month we will continue working on strengthening our fine motor skills. We will continue to trace different patterns, names, and letters. We will focus on sensory activities like our salt box to practice our letter writing skills and playdoh to strengthen our pincer grasp. We will cut out different patterns and textiles. We will continue to generalize recognizing our name in different contexts. We will be also reviewing our social story book about Fire Drills as we will have one this month. We will get outside as much as possible and continue working on students independently retrieving their winter gear and getting that gear on, as they have all mastered the preschool flip with their coats.
