News from Mrs. Mayrose & Mazzucca's 4 year old Classroom

We completed our color books this week with purple. Students mixed paint and created murals like we read about in the book Harold and the Purple Crayon. Our letter this week was D. In addition to practicing the sound & writing the letter, students created dinosaur scenes using stencils. What a beautiful day we had for our field trip to Cheesequake Farms. Everything from the bus ride, learning about a day on the farm & different kinds of pumpkins & seeds was very exciting! The hayride though the farm & picking pumpkins off an actual vine were certainly highlights of the day. Geography students continue to learn about the culture and people of Canada and created totem poles. We look forward to celebrating Halloween with our parade and party next Tuesday!

News From Mrs. Scher's Old Classroom

This week we had our class trip to Cheesequake Farms and focused on Halloween, pumpkins, skeletons, and the letter Hh. Our class trip to the farm was educational and so much fun. We learned about different kinds and sizes of pumpkins, gourds, different produce we get from the farm and animals that live on the farm. We took a hayride to a real pumpkin patch where we got to pick pumpkins right off the vine. When we got back we explored the inside of a pumpkin and completed our lifecycles of a pumpkin books. We read "Skeleton Hiccups" and used q-tips to create skeletons. During this activity we discussed the concept of tens and ones while counting out the amount of q-tips we used. We also played a skeleton game and started our Halloween books.

News From Mrs. Tucker's 3 Year Old Classroom

This week we had our class trip to Cheesequake Farms the children had so much fun learning about harvest time in New Jersey. The highlight of the trip was a hayride to the pumpkin patch where the children were able to pick their own pumpkin right off the vine. This week we also carved our class pumpkin and roasted the seeds for a yummy treat!

News From Mrs. Willis' Play Group

Playgroup children have been very busy getting ready and learning all about Halloween this week. We made our green Franksteins which are hung in the hall wall, they turned out great! They enjoyed painting them and then using our glue paint brushes to put on the circle eyes and nose and then the ears. The next project that they are working on is making black spiders. They will be making spider webs out of doilies and marble painting. It has been chilly this week so we have been going upstairs for our gross motor activities and into the music room which has been really fun! They are learning lots of Halloween songs and finger plays which you may hear them singing at home. Looking forward to seeing the children dressed up in their costumes next Mon., Tues., and Wed. Have a great weekend!!
