

Next Sunday May 17 will be our final broadcast only service at 12:00 pm. It is going to be an incredible time as we investigate the question: If God is so loving and good why is there so much bad and evil in the world? You don't want to miss this one!

Beginning Sunday May 24, we will resume on Campus worship! We will have two service times for you to choose from. The times are 9:30 am and 11:30 am. This gives us plenty of time to sanitize everything between services. There will be no nursery or childcare, but rooms will be available to watch the service with your child who may not be able to sit through a full service without disturbing people. Because seating is limited for each service time, we are asking that you register your family for which service you plan on attending. Here is the link to register what service you plan on attending. www.marshallroad.church/liveworship

If you would like to give your offering in person today, you can stop on your way out and drop it off in the bucket provided. Thank you for your faithful giving!

Beginning May 24, we are starting a new series: #blessed. This is going to be walking through the beatitudes one verse at a time! This wisdom from the greatest sermon ever preached by Jesus will transform your life in every way! This will be a great series to share with people. So many have a much different idea of what being blessed means than God does, so we are going to the source for answers.

Be sure to wish those moms in your life a very happy Mother's Day!