

A Lifestyle of Stewardship

We have heard a lot about how you can Say Yes to ministries here at Hebron in past weeks. Today, we want to remind you of the way in which you can help all those ministries flourish... and that's through your financial support.

You might not think that you can give, but it's key that you start somewhere. Establishing a spirit of generosity is more important than what you can give, and Stewardship feels that giving anything is important in terms of spiritual growth. In fact, if you were able to give up a cup of coffee ($5) each week for a year that would be about $250 you could give to support Hebron's ministries. What would this coffee challenge do for those ministries?

Your gift could:

- Fund a week of Sunday morning programming for our kids.
- Cover one-third of all associated costs for a confirmation class.
- Provide Grove materials for a semester.
- Provide hospitality for all three services for a week.

So, if 6 people could give up their theoretical cup of coffee, ALL of those ministries could fill those needs. What if even more could start down the path of generosity? Please consider saying YES to our challenge, whether you are just starting out or have been a faithful giver for years.

A member of the Stewardship team will be around today if you want to talk about giving or about various ways to give. We know that God can do mighty things through our faithful and consistent giving, no matter the size of that individual gift. Wherever you find yourself today, we want you to move toward the tithe, or if able to, beyond it.

Please pray about this challenge, and please Say Yes to stewardship.
