

IDEAS FOR REACHING YOUR LOCAL CAMPUS

Ask God to burden hearts for your local campus.

Look into offering students a ride to church.

Start a college age group at your church.

Look at options for volunteering on campus in order to meet students.

Reaching out to the mission field of your local college or university is a great way to impact the community and the world with the gospel message. If you have any questions about campus outreach, feel free to contact CBF. Our desire is to reach the next generation for Christ and we see you, the local church, as an important part in that mission!
