

Director of Worship Ministries
Board Report- August 2025

Wins

- The '90s series has been going over really well as far as we can tell. The teams have worked so hard and have come incredibly prepared and the congregation seems to be responding well.
- Christmas is coming together nicely. We have a bigger team involved in the planning this year and that has made things really special and exciting.
- As of last week, the drums are now officially 98% excellently recalibrated. Always a few hiccups and things to workout, but we have fixed so many issues that have been really frustrating and are finally feeling some relief not having to focus so much on them.

Ministry Challenges I'm Facing

- Things are okay. It's just a busy season with the Picnic, Discovery Worship Kick off, Christmas, the Women's Simulcast Retreat, and District Conference on the horizon. Praying to handle my time with wisdom and prioritize my family and my teams well.

Goals for the Next 30 Days

- Complete the Christmas Team and send out the service details
- Hone in on LIFE Sunday (affectionately dubbed the "Youth Takeover Sunday")
- Kick off of Discovery Worship Teams
- Put together the "Going Beyond" Simulcast Event with the Women's Ministry Team
- Start to explore upgrading the sound system in Discovery Worship to include the old Aviom System to help train the teens
