

Director of Worship Ministries
Board Report- November 2025

Wins

- Our first Christmas Eve rehearsal went very smoothly
- The kids choir for December 7th is amazing. They have been practicing so hard and I'm excited for them to have the opportunity to bless the church with their worship.
- I've had a few people interested in joining the platform teams so we are sorting through that process.
- Not only is Resi firing on all social media, but we also created a YouTube channel and fixed the stereo issue on the livestream (it would only come through one headphone if you were listening with them).

Ministry Challenges I'm Facing

- Other than the obvious business of the season, one of our microphones went bad and I sent it out for service. It's a minor thing because there are other solutions I can pursue, but it's just a pain and a little worrisome and the last thing I want to think about right now as I continue to pull things together for Christmas Eve.

Goals for the Next 30 Days

- Try to integrate the stream deck before end of the year.
 - Look into replacing ProPresenter with FreeShow
 - Decorate the church for Christmas
 - Continue fine tuning the tech for Christmas Eve and work on lighting more once the church is decorated.
 - Execute the Prepare Him Room Event for Women's Min
 - Conduct two more Christmas Eve rehearsals before the Dress Rehearsal on the 21st.
- Basically.... Make Christmas happen while keeping everything else afloat!!!
