

Reaching Our Community with Hope for Life

Emma* and Brett* came to Mosaic having already made the decision to have an abortion. Although the couple attended church regularly, they'd never formed views on abortion, or considered it scripturally. They felt trapped—already struggling to provide for their small family—and abortion seemed like their only option.

Emma and Brett found Mosaic by searching for a provider online. When they came for their free pregnancy test, viability ultrasound, and advocate counseling session, they told us they'd already booked an abortion appointment for the following day. They didn't bring their children to their ultrasound appointment, because they were afraid they'd find out about the pregnancy and get excited.

Our staff, volunteers, and Mosaic Prayer Team prayed fervently that the couple would see the value in their child's life.

After the test to confirm her pregnancy, Emma sat down with an Advocate Counselor, and Brett met with a Male Mentor. They both were able to talk with them about their options, their concerns, and what it would look like if they decided to carry their baby. They looked at scriptures together and learned about God's love for them and their child.

Emma and Brett were able to receive the help, support, and love they needed to choose Life for their precious unborn baby. Instead of their abortion appointment, the couple ended up going to an OB-GYN the next day to begin the process of prenatal care and get ready to have a baby! Their fear and devastation quickly turned into excitement as they prepared to welcome a new baby into the world.

Just last month, Emma delivered a precious baby girl. The couple says they've never felt more blessed. Their older children are so happy to have a new baby at home, and Emma and Brett are receiving the financial and emotional help they needed. They also plan to attend Mosaic's Earn While You Learn classes to become the best parents they can be. Instead of being what they thought was an inconvenience, their baby girl has turned out to be their greatest blessing.

Thank you for being part of Brett and Emma's story. Your prayers and financial support are vital to supporting families like this one who simply need to know that there's hope for their unplanned pregnancy.
