Why Evolution is Impossible

All life contains DNA, so for evolution to be true the DNA molecule must first evolve. The first problem is that the rate of destruction of even relatively simple chemical compounds, such as amino acids, by ultraviolet light or electrical discharges far exceeds their rate of formation. Thus, no significant quantities would be produced.

Another insurmountable barrier is that these amino acids would have to be arranged in an exact sequence to form a protein…like the letters in a sentence. Mere laws of probability forbid this from happening.

Even the simplest cell contains several thousand different kinds of proteins, and many billions of each kind, plus all kinds of DNA, RNA, and other highly complex molecules, along with many complex structures, arranged in an incredibly complex system.

In order to believe in evolution, you have to believe this happened, even though it is statistically impossible. It is much easier to believe that a higher intelligence, God, supernaturally created this complex universe. (Have You Been Brainwashed? by Dr. Duane Gish)
