A Quick Mainspring . . .

Dear Miramonte Families,

You had plenty to read (and probably re-read) on Sunday, so I will keep this one brief.

Prescreening - Just about everyone has mastered the protocol. Thank you! It is so important. Some are not clear whether you need to take your student's temperature every day - you actually do. Under 100 degrees - okay. If your student is at or over 100 degrees, then please keep them home.

After School Care - As we all are experiencing what the new reality in school is like, there have been some requests to adjust their plans. We understand and want to support you. Please finalize by this Friday for the month of October. We do need to have stable cohorts.

Remember Wednesday is a school day - just not on campus. Consult your student's teacher's communication for details.

Thank you to every one of you! You are making this transition quite smooth. Your feedback to your classroom teachers or to us in the office is invaluable at this time. Please keep it coming.

And lastly, instead of "The Final Word," I invite you to join our staff in special prayer for all of our school families, our sister school up north that burned down in the Glass Fire, and for the many silent requests. There is power in prayer - how much more so when we pray together!

God bless you!

Yours truly,

Rick Maloon
Principal
