

Vincent – Rescued in 2014

Vincent Fiagbenu lives in a village called Torgome in the Volta region where farming and trading in lobsters are the main occupation of the people. Vincent lives with his aunty and other close relatives.

Vincent is doing well and gradually performing better in school. He can now read and write simple sentences, he can solve mathematical problems and identify spelling words. He has really improved since he was rescued from Sabonjeda! Vincent says he wishes to become one of the renowned football players in the future. His next year of school has just begun and he was promoted to grade three.

On behalf of Vincent and his family, I thank you for your sponsorship and appreciate all your efforts in putting a smile on the face of Vincent and helping him go to school and become a better person in the future.

He thanks you for all your letters you have been writing him and the stickers you have been sending.

God Bless You,
Cynthia – social worker

Tabitha – Rescued in 2015

Tabitha Dayitey is 9 years old, and the younger of two children, born to Mr. Dotse and Madame Gifty, both of whom are deceased.

She was rescued from the fishing community of Abelekura in the Northern part of Ghana. She was in the village for 3 years; within this period she was mostly doing house chores and occasionally working on the lake and not going to school.

Since her rescue she has improved greatly from being a sad little girl to a lovely friendly and happy girl. She is doing well academically too. Her favorite pass time is to watch TV, although at the rehabilitation shelter, they do not allow the children to watch too much TV.

She will be reunited with her grandmother within the next few weeks. Her brother Prosper, is already there, in school and doing well. She is very excited for her return.

Thank you for support and Sponsorship!

May God Bless You,
Samuel – social worker
