

Cultivating Your Constituency

- Cultivation...

The process of gradually developing the interest of an important prospective contributor through exposure to institutional activities, people, needs and plans to the point where the individual may consider a gift.