

At the end of each day, when you eat supper or before bed, take a moment and write down one specific thing that you were grateful for in your day.

If you live with others, share your note, and then drop it in your jar. Continue this mental and spiritual health exercise each day over the next two months, and then read through the notes on Thanksgiving Day.

Church of the Resurrection 2020
