

Dear Sweet Supporters,

I hope this letter finds you well as we continue to live and journey in these unprecedented times. Thank you for your continued financial support and prayers for me. The year 2020 will forever be etched in my heart and mind as the year of "new normal" and big changes. The biggest change for me has not been learning to survive the Covid-19 quarantine, but learning how to thrive when God closes the door on full-time missions work in La Vega, Dominican Republic and with TEARS Ministries.

As I look back, I am praising God for how good He has been to me in allowing me to work alongside Him in the DR these past five years and for how He will continue to work. The impact for the Kingdom of God will echo long after I am gone. I know He is faithful and will continue to raise up local leaders and grow His church. A giant piece of my heart and our co-laborer work will be left in the DR. I will always love the beautiful people of this wonderful country. I am truly grateful for your active support of me and the kingdom work of "Let Hope Rise!" Our God is a good God!

I also am writing with a request for your prayers and continued support. Will you join me through your continued support and prayer as I embark on the new journey of asking God to direct my next steps? I plan to head back to DR when the borders open and close my house down and then begin resettling back in Greenville, SC. As I resettle, I will continue to meet with pastors and mentors from my home church, Fellowship Greenville. I will also look for a small job to supplement my income. And most importantly, I will continue to seek God's direction for my next steps. The direction I am asking God to help me discern is going back to full-time missions ministry overseas or whatever God chooses. My goal is to be launched in the direction God wants

Jessica
