

San Antonio Military Health System (SAMHS)

The San Antonio Military Health System (SAMHS) is led by Air Force (USAF) and Army (USA) General Officers and is responsible for providing management and oversight of business, clinical, and educational functions of all Military Health System (MHS) Medical Treatment Facilities (MTFS) located in the San Antonio metropolitan area. As one of six Enhanced Multi-Service Markets (EMSM) within the Department of Defense, the SAMHS is comprised of USAF and USA units that include:

The 59th Medical Wing (Component Command Structure) with subordinate units:

Gateway Bulverde Clinic
Randolph Clinic
Reid Clinic
Wilford Hall Ambulatory Surgical Center

Brooke Army Medical Center (Component Command Structure) with subordinate units:

Brooke Army Medical Center
Camp Bullis Taylor Burk Clinic
Center for the Intrepid (CFI)
CPT Jennifer M. Moreno Primary Care Clinic
McWethy Troop Medical Clinic
Schertz Medical Home
Westover Hills Medical Home

As an integrated health system, the SAMHS continues to optimize the direct care system while strengthening the collaboration with Department of Veterans Affairs and Private Sector Care partners.

The SAMHS is dedicated to the highest quality, patient centered care with a clear focus on safety, access to care, patient safety and customer service, while providing first-rate graduate medical and other health education and training programs, conducting state-of-the-art research and maintaining the critical global readiness of all war fighters.
