WHAT IS LIPOPHILIC NOVASOL CURCUMIN EXTRACT?

The NovaSOL curcumin extract used in Cūnique is encapsulated by lipophilic (oil soluble) active ingredients using nano technology, giving the unique formula a natural micelle structure to greatly aid absorption. The human body has a difficult time absorbing standard curcumin; however, with this lipophilic delivery system, the curcumin is protected and given biomimetic properties, making it able to be rapidly absorbed and easily dispersed to cells in the body that will benefit from it. In fact, the curcumin used in Cūnique has been shown to be at least 185x more bioavailable (easily absorbed) than standard curcumin, and it is the most bioavailable form of curcumin currently available on the market.

WHAT IS BIOPERINE® BLACK PEPPER EXTRACT?

BioPerine is an extract from black pepper that was found to enhance absorption of nutrients by at least 30%.
