

RACIAL RECONCILIATION

WAYS TO SERVE

Fighting for positive change includes many roles and options, but for the Christian, our primary way to serve is to pray. We are asking that you continue to pray for healing and wisdom as we stand with everyone in our community through these conversations. In addition to praying, standing with those in need helps us address larger issues. Below you will find some relationship-centered opportunities to serve our community.

ABLEWORKS <http://able.is/futureprofits/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

- Volunteer to teach a class once a week.
- Host a class at your place of employment to expose students to career opportunities.
- Host a student at your place of employment for one week.

This education program partners with local organizations and public high schools to target under-resourced high school students at risk of being caught in generational cycles of poverty. For more information, fill out a volunteer interest form.

BAYSHORE CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES <https://www.bayshore.org/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Provide spiritual and academic support in a highly-relational environment.

This organization cultivates hope and a future for youth from East Palo Alto and Belle Haven. For more information, please email volunteer@bayshore.org or fill out a volunteer interest form.

BRIGHTER DAY <http://brighterdayyp.org/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Work with youth discharged from juvenile hall and develop a relationship of trust and support in their new job and journey in life.

This work-based youth program acts as a “safety net” for misguided youth by intervening and redirecting their lives through work that offers discipline, structure, and skills. For more information, contact Kelvin Smith at info@brighterdayyp.org.

COMMUNITY YOUTH CENTER (CYC) <https://cycsf.org>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Support youth in their mentorship program and computer clubhouse; share your career path and become a panelist for high school students.

CYC serves over 8,000 youth in the Bayview, Chinatown, Ingleside, Mission/Excelsior, Richmond, Sunset, and Tenderloin neighborhoods. They address the needs of a diverse population of low-income, high-need, and at-risk youth which are primarily Asian Pacific American (80%), Latino, and African American. Contact Ben at benm@cycsf.org

EBAYC (EAST BAY ASIAN YOUTH CENTER) <https://ebayc.org>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Help with after-school and summer programs; provide translation services (verbal & written in Cantonese, Spanish, and Vietnamese); or mentor students. Also, provide internships for students.

EBAYC envisions a future where they empower youth to grow up to be lifelong builders of a safe, smart, and socially responsible society by providing trusted mentors, educational programs, and grassroots policy work. This nonprofit serves 30% AAPI, 46% Latino, and 22% African American in Oakland and Sacramento. Contact us at info@ebayc.org

GENERATIONS UNITED <https://generations-united.com/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Build a relationship with a child as a tutor and friend. Then the whole family gets involved, around meals, fitness programs, service projects, community networking, and conversations.

This organization empowers the children and families of Redwood City and North Fair Oaks to reach their full potential. For more information, visit the Generations United webpage or fill out the volunteer interest form.

LIVE IN PEACE <https://www.liveinpeace.org/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Invest in the lives of students and young adults in one of our four programs: high school academic re-engagement, gap year, college scholarship and support, and bike shop.

This organization empowers youth to reclaim the vision for their future. To get connected for volunteering, email Heather Starnes at heather@liveinpeace.org.

NEW DOOR VENTURES <http://www.newdoor.org/volunteer/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Virtual workshops include career round table, mock interviews, and resume workshops.

This organization provides training, jobs, education, and support to help disconnected youth prepare for work and life. Many program participants are referred by local organizations that work with formerly incarcerated youth. To volunteer, contact Heather Rudow at hrudow@newdoor.org.

OPEN DOOR LEGAL <https://opendoorlegal.org>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Help provide access to free legal aid. We are always looking for skilled volunteers and we would love to connect with any attorneys interested in doing pro bono work, or anyone who is able to do translation. To connect with us, email Whitney Tu at whitney@opendoorlegal.org.

Open Door Legal is pioneering the country's first system of universal access to legal aid. Legal aid is the least-funded but most cost-effective way to address poverty in America, and we work with clients in San Francisco who are 95% people of color. Nearly 80% of our clients earn less than $15,000 per year.

RAVENSWOOD EDUCATION FOUNDATION <https://www.ravenswoodef.org/>

OPPORTUNITIES:

The district is looking for Spanish/English bilingual adults to help teachers and families connect virtually during distance learning.

REF supports schools and teachers in the Ravenswood School District to ensure equitable and high-quality educational opportunities for students and schools while engaging the entire community. If you are bilingual and available to be part of conference calls with teachers and families, fill out a volunteer interest form.

REACH POTENTIAL <https://www.reachpotential.org/home.html>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Tutor at Reading Readiness; mentor at a Dream4College career day; or aid a child in building a Bookshelf in Every Home. Reach Potential is also looking for the following specialized skills:

- Photographers for events
- Web Designer
- Social Media Manager
- Donor Engagement Manager

The mission of Reach Potential is to help underserved youth and their families, equipping and developing them with leadership, life skills, and extending opportunities for spiritual development. For more information, contact Malia Pires at Malia@rpmovement.org

RISE PREP <https://www.riseprep.org>

OPPORTUNITIES:

Support students by tutoring or mentoring; help with math or reading; share your story, skills, and talents.

Rise Prep is a Christian school located in the SF Bayview. They care deeply about addressing inequities and systemic injustice that harm children, but also building a strong foundation with education and Godly principles. Contact Danny at dkim@riseprep.org
