Congratulations on your Baptism!

Making the decision to submit your life to Jesus is the best decision you can make and you've done it. Your journey with Jesus is just beginning and we are so excited for how you'll continue to grow.

The reality is that no one can live out your faith for you. While you begin to take steps, we are here to walk beside you as you start to follow Jesus.

With all of that in mind, we've laid out a seven-day guide for you to work through that will provide some essential tools you'll need on your journey. Day One will provide an overview. Days Two through Seven will focus on a specific tool you'll need as you start your journey. Each day is designed to take between 10 and 15 minutes. So make sure you set aside the time you need to make the most out of it. If you have any questions along the way, our team is here to help: email baptism@mosaicchristian.org

Before you get Started

Make sure you have a Bible you can understand readily available. If you don't have one, let us know and we'll get you one. You can also check out the Bible App or YouVersion online for a digital copy of Scripture. We suggest the New Living Translation (NLT) because it's fairly easy to understand and it's the main version we use at Mosaic on Sundays.

BEFORE TURNING THE PAGE, MAKE SURE YOU HAVE THE FOLLOWING:

A Bible you understand (physical or digital)
Want a physical Bible? We can give you one!
Email baptism@mosaicchristian.org

A pen

10-15 minutes to spend focused on your faith

Day One

You're on the team!

You may not know this but when you got baptized, you participated in an ancient practice that Jesus and his followers have been doing for thousands of years to signify their allegiance to God and receive his salvation. Regardless of what language they speak, Christians all over the world have climbed in a tub, pool, river, lake, or some other body of water, professed their faith, and been baptized as a sign of their faith. So whether you knew it or not, your baptism joined you to a much bigger team. Today, as you read scripture, you'll read about Jesus' baptism and what it means to be part of the global Church.

You'll also take a minute or two to get some history of Mosaic and how you fit into the bigger picture here in Maryland. Lastly, you'll have some space to reflect and consider what all of that means for you. Take some time now to read the following verses in your Bible. Feel free to highlight or underline anything that's meaningful to you.

READ

Mark 1:1-11

Romans 12:2-18

*Use the table of contents in your Bible to look up these scriptures.

UNDERSTAND

We understand that you didn't have the Spirit of God descend on you like a dove when you got baptized, but you marked your allegiance to God in the same way that Jesus did! Even better, the Bible teaches that once we're baptized, the Holy Spirit dwells within us.

Also, as a follower of Jesus, you're part of a bigger family called the church and you have an essential role to play. As you read in Romans, you are wired and talented in ways that will make the church better and reach more people in need of hope. The best place to leverage those talents to reach people is right here at Mosaic.

Mosaic is a local church that's part of the much bigger collection of followers of Jesus known as the global church. At Mosaic, we're committed to leveraging our time, talents, and gifts to reach Maryland with the hope and healing of Jesus.

Since Mosaic began in 2008, we have seen thousands of people get baptized, and God is continuing to move! Remember that wall you signed in the baptism bathroom? Yeah, your name is alongside so many others who have chosen to trust God and be baptized here at Mosaic. Just like your name on that wall, every one of the names represents a person and a story that matters to God. In case you didn't know it, you are not alone in this journey of faith!

Take a few minutes to reflect on what you read in the Bible and how it plays out in your life here in Maryland and at Mosaic.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or compelling? If it's confusing, do you need to keep studying or ask for help? If challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

Is there anything you learned about Mosaic and how you fit into the team here in Maryland?

Anything else you want to remember
from your time with God today?

CLOSING IN PRAYER

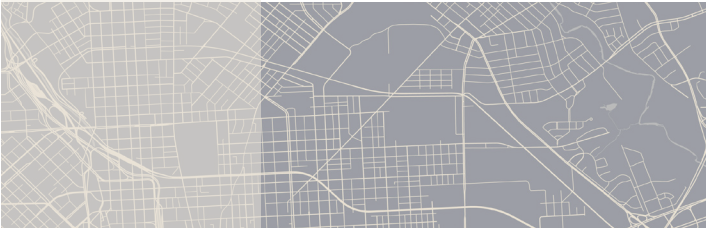

Dear God,
Help my baptism not be a one-time decision for me that stays in the past. Help this moment to change the rest of my life as I choose to follow you.

In Jesus' name,
Amen

Day Two

As you begin your journey with faith, we want to help equip you with some essential tools that you'll need along the way. For builders, tools like hammers or tape measures aren't things they graduate from using. Rather, they are helpful aids that just become more familiar and easier to use over time. The same principle is true for the six tools you'll acquire throughout this road map. The more you build a habit of using these tools, the more familiar and effective you'll be with them on your journey in faith.

Tool 1: Encountering Scripture

In case you don't know, the Bible isn't a book as much as it is a collection of books (66 in all). It's written by various authors in various literary forms all under the inspiration of God himself. Think of it as the north star. It doesn't move, it doesn't change, but it calls us to get in line with it so we can be in line with God.

Today, as you read your Bible, you'll explore a few key scriptures that teach us about the Bible and how useful it can be for the followers of God. Don't miss the importance that Christians put on studying the scriptures and how they let it affect their lives.

READ

2 Timothy 3:16-17

Romans 15:4-6

Hebrews 4:12-13

Psalms 119:105-112

UNDERSTAND

In case you missed it, the Bible was inspired by God, teaches us how to live, cuts through our lies, and lights our path as we move forward throughout our lives. Building a habit of encountering scripture is key if you're going to follow Jesus well. For one, it helps you understand who God is and what he cares about. It helps you know what he wants for the world, what he wants for you, and what he expects from you. It instructs us in how to navigate relationships, work, sex, money, stress, and struggle. Living your life in line with scripture doesn't ensure financial gain or good health, but it offers peace that surpasses understanding and joy that outweighs the pain of life.

Here at Mosaic, we challenge you to read the Bible every single day. The data shows that people who read their Bible at least 4 days each week have less stress, more joy, better control over sin, and more fulfillment in relationships. They have less addiction, less financial issues, less relational struggle. To take a look at the data for yourself, check out <https://www.centerforbibleengagement.org/post/bible-engagement-a-key-to-spiritual-growth>.

We also offer a variety of groups that study the Bible together. If you're new to reading the Bible, check out our Resources page (mosaicchristian.org/baptismroadmap) on the website for a list of groups designed to introduce you to the Bible and help you understand where it came from, what to do with it, and how to apply it to your life. Our goal is for you to encounter scripture, not just read it. Reading is informational, but encounters are transformational. Like you read in Romans yesterday, God wants to, "transform you into a new person by changing the way you think." (Romans 12:2) So when you read your Bible, don't simply read to check a box, but instead allow it to change the way you think.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or compelling? If it's confusing, do you need to keep studying or ask for help? If challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

.....

.....

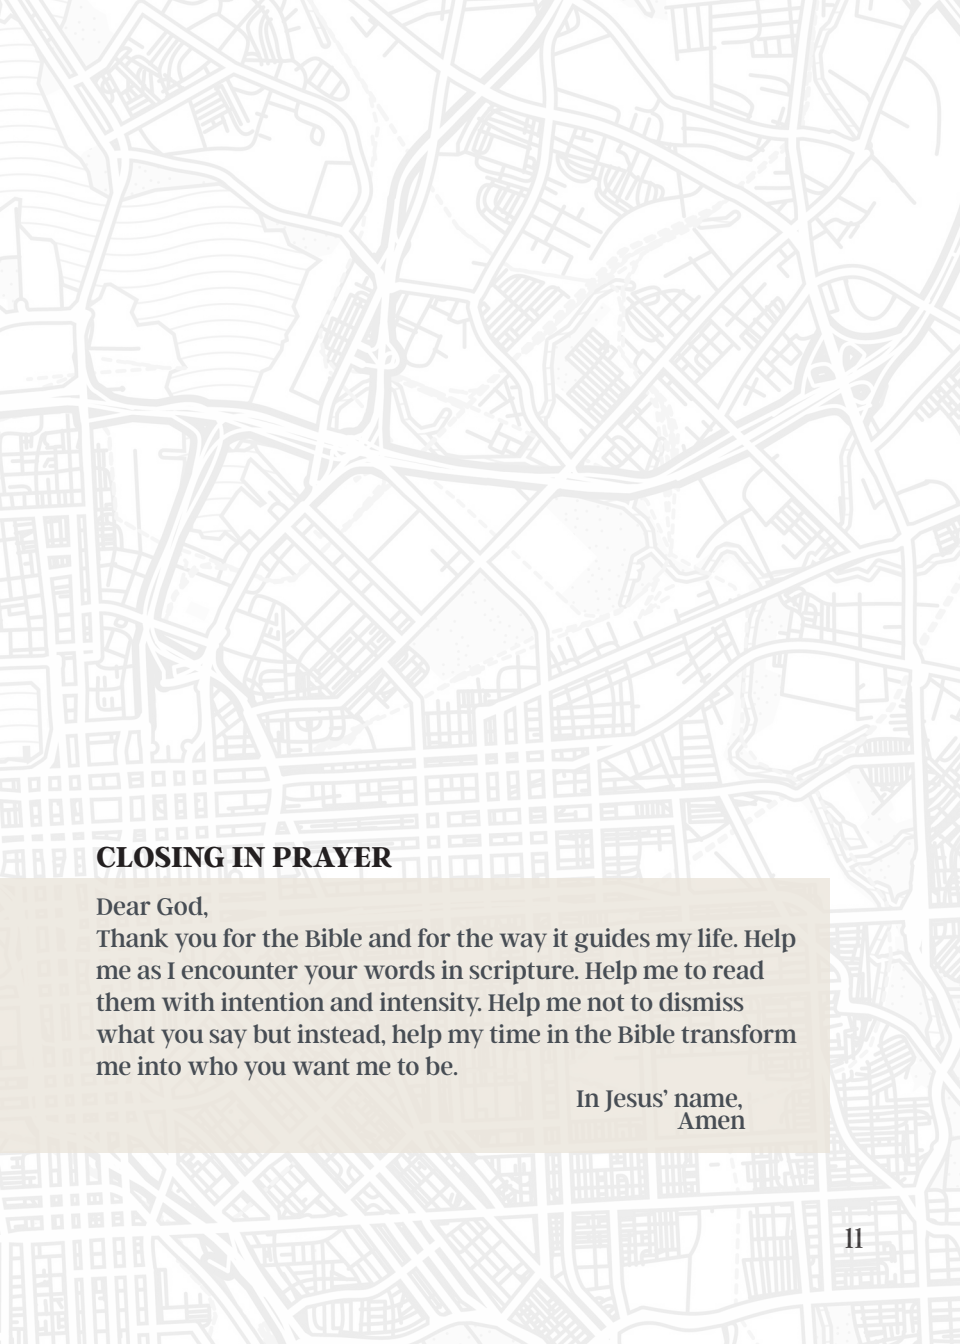

.....

As you learned about Mosaic's emphasis on encountering scripture, is there anything you need to do? Commit to reading your Bible daily? Join a group?

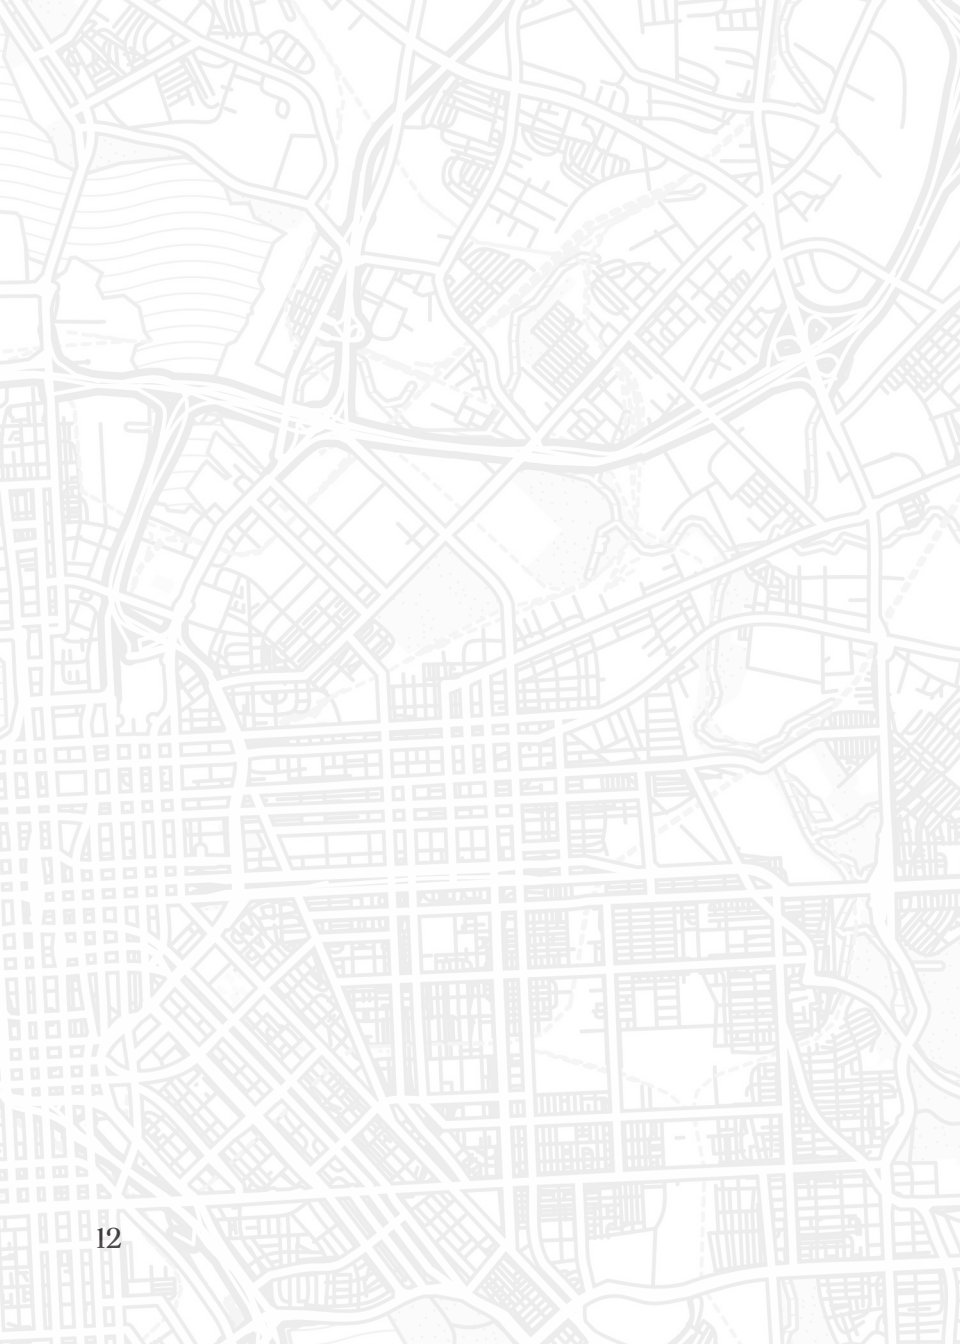

Is there anything else you want to remember from your time with God today?

CLOSING IN PRAYER

Dear God,
Thank you for the Bible and for the way it guides my life. Help me as I encounter your words in scripture. Help me to read them with intention and intensity. Help me not to dismiss what you say but instead, help my time in the Bible transform me into who you want me to be.

In Jesus' name,
Amen

Day Three

You've made it to Day 3! Hopefully Days One and Two have helped you connect with a mission bigger than yourself and started you on a journey to better know God through reading his word. As you continue through this road map, don't stop using the tools you gain along the way.

Using a tape measure becomes more valuable when you follow it up by using a saw to cut the piece of wood to the measurement. In the same way, encountering scripture can become more valuable to you as you partner it with the tool of contemplative prayer.

Tool 2: Contemplative Prayer

Today, we're going to double down on this idea of knowing God by exploring how we talk to him. Reading your Bible helps you hear from God and is the guide for how to live life. Prayer provides space for us to spend time with God and helps us talk with him as we navigate life. The reason we're focusing on contemplative prayer is because prayer isn't meant to be rushed or said in haste. It's an opportunity to slow down and connect with God. That doesn't mean that one line prayers are bad, but it does mean that there's more to prayer than just making a couple requests and saying, Amen.

Today, as you read your Bible, you'll look at one of Jesus' most significant teachings on prayer and a few examples of Jesus' personal habit of prayer. Instead of trying to memorize what Jesus said in prayer, pay attention to how he prayed because it can serve as a model for us.

READ

Luke 6:12

Mark 1:35

Luke 5:16

Matthew 6:5-18

UNDERSTAND

Jesus clearly had a habit of prayer. His life modeled that a key part of the road map to meaningful faith must involve prayer. Jesus' teaching on prayer demonstrates that there's more to prayer than simply telling God what we need. We have to be humble, focus on God, repent of our sin, recognize his goodness, ask for what we need, and ultimately submit to his direction for our life. That doesn't mean we have to pray all night, but it is an invitation to contemplate ourselves and our lives with God when we pause to pray.

At Mosaic, one of the ways we encourage you to slow down and pray is through the P-R-A-Y model of prayer.

Pause: Quiet your mind and enter a place of stillness before God.

Reflect & Rejoice: Express gratitude and praise for God's blessings.

Ask: Share your needs and desires with God.

Yield: Submit your will to God's will.

This model isn't perfect or holy but it does follow what Jesus taught and it provides us an opportunity to connect with God in prayer. If you're looking to build a habit of prayer, commit to joining us for Midweek Prayer at Mosaic on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 - 8:30 pm. Each week, a leader guides us through a time of prayer where we pause, reflect, ask, and yield.

Throughout the year, you can also find groups on prayer like "How to Pray" or "The Prayer Course" that are designed to help you build a habit of prayer and a better understanding of the tool that it can be.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or compelling? If it's confusing, do you need to keep studying or ask for help? If it's challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

.....

.....

As you focus on knowing God here at Mosaic, is there anything you need to do to grow in prayer?

Is there anything else you want to remember from your time with God today?

CLOSING IN PRAYER

Pause: Take a couple deep breaths to slow down.

Reflect and Rejoice: Take time to tell God three things that you are thankful for in your life.

Ask: Is there something you need God to do because you're at the end of your effort and it's still not changing? Make your request to God.

Yield: Open your hands palm up as a posture of submission and take a minute to let God know that you trust him and choose to follow him more than anything else in life.

TRY THIS:

After taking time to physically pause, pray.

Dear God,
Thank you for _____, _____, and _____. Those things are helpful to me in life and I recognize that they are from you.

As I go through life, I'm struggling with _____ and need your help. Will you help me with _____ and give me what I need to get through it?

God, you are good to me and have been good to me. Even if I don't get what I prayed for, I'm choosing to trust you and follow your ways.

In Jesus' name,
Amen

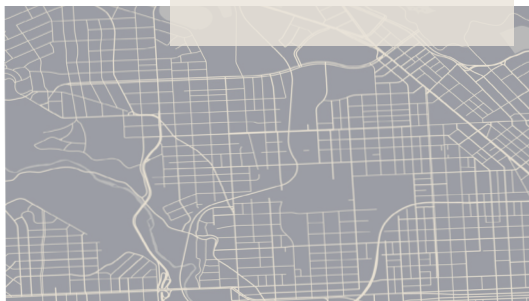

Day Four

FYI: Today may take a few more minutes than normal. Set aside at least 20 minutes for this section.

You're midway through the road map and for the next two days, we're shifting from tools that help us know God to tools that help us know the world around us. When Jesus was asked what the most important commandment from God was, he responded "You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul, and all your mind.' This is the first and greatest commandment. A second is equally important: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'" (Matthew 22:37-39 NLT)

According to Jesus, his followers can't simply focus all of their energy on God. They must take what they know about God and connect it to the world around them. That's why tool #3 in the road map is a commitment to community.

Tool 3: Commitment to Community

Before you read the Bible today, take a few minutes to identify the people in your crew. These are people who know your story, they know your struggles, and they know what gets you hyped. These are the people you'd call or text when life goes great or things hit the fan. For most of us, this list is 2-5 people. Once you've identified your crew, write down their names below. If you don't have anybody in your crew or you just have people who used to be in your crew, we get it and we're here to help. Skip the fill-in-the-blank section and move on.

- 1) _____
- 2) _____
- 3) _____
- 4) _____
- 5) _____

As you read the Bible today, you'll look at the crew, community, and crowd that Jesus had as well as a couple quick verses on how the followers of Jesus are called to treat one another.

READ

Luke 6:12-19

Matthew 26:36-38

Ephesians 4:32

Matthew 17:1-4

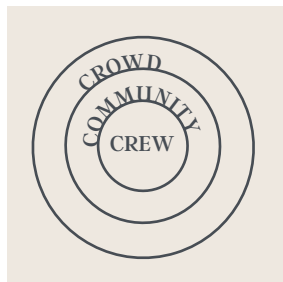

John 13:34

UNDERSTAND

In the first three passages you read, you see Jesus select his 12 Disciples from among the crowd. These 12 men would spend the next three years with him and get to know him well. They'd learn his habits and do their best to imitate what he taught them. These men were his community.

Among that group of 12 were three men: Peter, James, and John, who got more of Jesus' time and had greater access to key moments of his life. As you read, you saw those three men were there on the mountain top when the miracle happened and they are with him in the valley when he's in anguish before his crucifixion. In the highest of highs and lowest of lows, Peter, James, and John were the ones that Jesus relied on because they were his crew.

Outside of the 3 and the 12 was everyone else. Jesus was friends with others, cared for others, even healed others, but they got less of his time and energy. Jesus understood that his time was limited so he made his greatest impact by investing in a few that could carry on the mission long after his time on Earth.

At Mosaic, we encourage you to follow Jesus' example by building a crew and community of people that follow Jesus. While your current community may be more on the fence or figuring things out when it comes to faith, having a rock solid crew that's committed to growing their faith is vital if you're going to follow Jesus well.

Earlier, you identified your crew. Take a look at the list of names you wrote down. Are those people following Jesus? Do they have a life and a faith that you want to emulate? Do they live out the verses you read in John 13 and Ephesians 4?

If your crew isn't following Jesus or if they're not accessible to you because of distance or different stages of life, we'd highly recommend that you check out Mosaic Groups. Mosaic Groups is a place where you can begin to build your crew. It won't happen overnight and may not happen in your first group but if you stick with it, you'll build a crew that walks through the highs and lows of life with you.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or compelling? If it's confusing, do you need to keep studying or ask for help? If it's challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

As you focus on finding your crew here at Mosaic, is there anything you need to do with your current crew of people? Is there a group you need to join to start finding your crew?

Is there anything else you want to remember from your time with God today?

CLOSING IN PRAYER

Pause: Take a couple deep breaths to slow down.

Reflect and Rejoice: Take time to thank God for the people in your life who have been there in the peaks and in the valleys.

Ask: As you continue to evaluate and build your crew, ask God to give you wisdom and discernment to invest in the right people.

Yield: Shifting friendships isn't easy. Take a moment to commit yourself to trusting God as you find your people.

Day Five

Yesterday, you spent time evaluating your crew and considering if you have the right people around you to help you fight for your faith. If you noticed that some of your current crew aren't following Jesus, today is going to be helpful.

Everything we're focusing on today will help you share your faith with the world around you, especially those who aren't following Jesus. A key part of following Jesus is taking the message of hope, healing, and redemption to people who are hurting and looking for answers. That's why the next tool we need to familiarize ourselves with is being a witness.

Tool 4: Being a Witness

According to the Bible, Jesus left Heaven and came to earth to reconcile sinful people back to a holy God. He was the perfect sacrifice that satisfied God's need for a sacrifice and our need for a savior. Perfect because he was sinless, satisfying God by being a sacrifice, and savior because he leads us back to God when we submit to him.

When you got baptized you professed Jesus as your Lord and Savior, meaning that you recognize him as the leader of your life and forgiver of your sin. If those in your crew, community, and crowd haven't made the same commitment, they're living life apart from God and you know that there's something better for them than that.

As you read the Bible today, you'll look at the commission Jesus gave his followers and the way they communicated the Good News of God to people looking for hope.

READ

Matthew 28:18-20

Matthew 5:14-16

Matthew 9:35-38

John 4:1-42

UNDERSTAND

Before Jesus left the Earth and ascended back to Heaven, he commissioned his followers to go share the Good News of God and make disciples (followers) of Jesus. This wasn't just a commission for the people there with Jesus that day, it was a commission to all who would follow Jesus one day.

As a follower of Christ, part of your mission here on Earth is to help others know God and follow him. You are to be the light in dark places that points people to hope. Here at Mosaic, we put this into practice by inviting others to come and see.

“Come and see the church I go to that helps me understand the Bible.”

“Come and see the service that helps me connect with God.”

“Come and see the community I have that helps me live life to the full.”

“Come and see a place that helps give real answers to the questions we’re asking today.”

Just like the Woman at the Well, when you don’t have to have all the answers or know all of the right words to say, you can simply invite your people to, “Come and see.”

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or helpful? If it’s challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

Who in your life needs hope right now? Is there anyone you know that isn’t following Jesus and needs to be forgiven? Is there a better time than now to invite them to come and see by inviting them to Mosaic?

Is there anything else you want to remember
from your time with God today?

.....

.....

CLOSING IN PRAYER

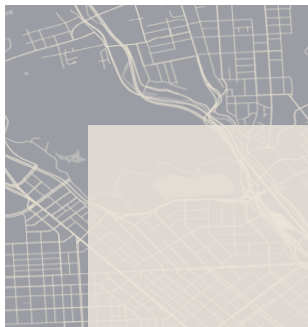

Pause: Take a couple deep breaths to slow down.

Reflect and Rejoice: Take time to thank God for the people in your life that love you even though they may be far from God.

Ask: Ask God to give you wisdom to know when to invite them to church and ask him for the courage to boldly invite them to come and see.

Yield: Take a few moments to recognize that God loves your people and that God wants to see them commit their lives to following Jesus more than you do. Address the hesitations you have to invite them to consider faith and commit to loving God over pleasing people.

Day Six

For the final two days of your journey through this road map, you'll adventure through the concept of changing the world. For many of us, the idea of changing the world feels too big to actually be possible and for you as an individual, that may be true. However, when you remember that you're part of the global church that's existed across the world for thousands of years AND you're part of the local church here at Mosaic, making an impact may be more attainable than you originally thought possible.

Yesterday, you read verses about being a light to the world and today you'll consider how your time and talents can be leveraged to help make that happen.

Tool 5: Serving Others

Many of Jesus' followers, including some in his community and crowd, looked at Jesus as the one who would overthrow Rome and establish a new kingdom. If that was going to be the case, they wanted to be close to him so they could be in seats of power and authority.

Their idea wasn't far-fetched because Rome was occupying the Jewish territories and they believed the Messiah would provide some relief both physically and politically. Jesus, however, flipped their expectations on their heads and taught that he was on Earth to serve people, not to be served.

As you read the Bible today, you'll see a story of how Jesus' closest people wanted to be in authority and the way Jesus corrects their expectations. You'll also read an example of how those following Jesus served the people around them.

READ

Mark 10:35-45

Luke 22:24-27

Mark 9:33-37

Acts 6:1-7

UNDERSTAND

It appears that Jesus' closest people regularly wanted to have authority over people because of their connection to Christ. They were looking to be served by others instead of finding opportunities to serve the people around them.

As you read, you saw Jesus repeatedly challenges them to be servants instead of being served, and he even says that the greatest people in the kingdom of God are those who serve others.

Here at Mosaic, we are committed to serving both the people who walk through our doors and the world around us. At the time this book was written, Mosaic has over 900 volunteers that serve each and every week by holding a baby, leading kids in worship, greeting on a door, operating a camera, playing an instrument, providing security, and so much more. We are not built on the talents of a few, but rather, the sacrifices of many.

Even with all of those people sacrificing their time to serve, we're committed to creating opportunities for you to serve as well. We genuinely believe that serving others is a key part of following Jesus and we want to help you step into it.

If you're not currently serving at Mosaic, check out mosaicchristian.org/servingteam for the most up to date information on current opportunities for you to join the team and start serving. Also, check out mosaicchristian.org/impact for more information on how you can partner with Mosaic to serve the community and world around us.

If you decide to serve, you get to celebrate every single time a person decides to follow Jesus and gets baptized. Not because you caused it (God did that) but because you serve, you get to be a part of it.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or compelling? If it's confusing, do you need to keep studying or ask for help? If it's challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

At times, the community of Jesus was looking to be served instead of seeking opportunities to serve others? Are there any areas of your life that need to shift from served to serving?

Take a moment to consider the time and talents that you currently have. How can you best leverage those gifts to serve at Mosaic and in your community?

Is there anything else you want to remember from your time with God today?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

CLOSING IN PRAYER

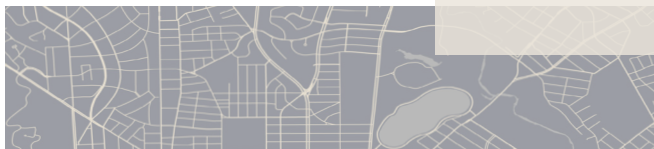

Pause: Take a couple deep breaths to slow down.

Reflect and Rejoice: Take time to thank God for the people that sacrifice every week to help Mosaic create a great Sunday experience so your friends can bump into Jesus.

Ask: Ask God to show you the right place for you to start serving the world around you. Also, if you realized you're looking to be served, take a moment to repent and ask for forgiveness.

Yield: Consider the sacrifice that serving may require from you and ask God to use your time to reach the lost people you prayed for yesterday.

Day Seven

You've made it to day seven of the road map! We hope that you have found this guide helpful as you gain the tools necessary for navigating life and faith well. We pray that you're building the muscle of knowing God as you encounter scripture and explore more contemplative prayer. We pray for your time over the next year as you build out your crew and invite others to come and see. And we can't wait to see what God does in and through you as you say yes to serving others as part of changing the world!

As followers of Jesus, one of the biggest competitors for our heart is our wallet. The way we handle money and generosity can propel our faith forward or cause us to stall out altogether.

On this seventh and final day, we're ending by exploring a topic that Jesus and scripture talk about often: money.

It's hard to live a day in our world without thinking about or spending money. It's a major part of our lives and that's why the final tool we must learn to leverage is sacrificial generosity.

Tool 6: Sacrificial Generosity

The people in Jesus' day struggled with money, valued themselves according to what they owned, and did what they could to acquire more for themselves. Sound familiar?

Jesus calls us to view money differently. He didn't demonize money or celebrate it. He didn't value people by what they had or chase down those who had much. Jesus could have built a life of wealth and influence. Instead, he chose to serve and scripture says that there are times when he didn't have a place to lay his head (Matthew 8:20). For Jesus and his followers, money is a tool. It's something to be managed and leveraged to serve our families and the world around us.

As you read the Bible today, you'll read a few examples of how Jesus talked about money and the challenges he gave to people looking to leverage what they had so they could experience something greater.

READ

Matthew 6:19-34

Luke 12:13-34

Matthew 25:14-30

UNDERSTAND

Jesus taught on money more than he taught on most topics. Our goal at Mosaic isn't to gain access to your wallet, it's to help Jesus gain more access to your heart. When we take the time to explore how we view money and allow Jesus to shift our views, life gets better. To be clear, we don't mean that we get richer. We do mean that life itself gets more rich and has more depth to it.

In the story about the three servants, Jesus teaches a key principle that we must understand when it comes to money and generosity: We are stewards and managers, not owners. We may have earned what we're paid but ultimately, God gave it to us. God blessed you with a job and income and he's trusting you to manage and steward what you've been given. By definition, a steward is someone entrusted with the responsibility of managing and caring for another person's possessions or resources, often on a large scale.

Instead of seeing yourself as a man or woman looking to invest your wealth, consider what it would look like to be a financial advisor entrusted with investing someone else's wealth. You make decisions that build or diminish it. You benefit from making the right calls but ultimately, you're responsible to someone else when it comes to what you do with what you've been given.

At Mosaic, 80% of the people who give financially give online directly through our website. 10% of everything we receive goes right back out to support local missions, global church planting, and community benevolence. The remaining 90% is leveraged to support the day-in, day-out operations of what you experience every week. Annually, we pay a third party to provide a complete audit of our books. The most recent audit can be found at mosaicchristian.org/give.

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

As you read the Bible, was anything confusing, challenging, or compelling? If it's confusing, do you need to keep studying or ask for help? If it's challenging or compelling, what steps can you take this week in the right direction?

How have you viewed money throughout your life? Good or evil? Something to be gained or something to avoid? How would God have you view it?

Thinking about your support of the local church, would you consider yourself a sacrificial giver? Is there a step for you to take towards sacrificial generosity?

Is there anything else you want to remember from your time with God today?

.....

.....

CLOSING IN PRAYER

Pause: Take a couple deep breaths to slow down.

Reflect and Rejoice: Take time to thank God for the job you have and the financial state you're in even if it's not great.

Ask: Ask God to continue to provide for you and to help you trust him when it comes to your finances.

Yield: Consider the sacrifice that giving may require from you and ask God to use your sacrifice to impact generations to come.

You Made It!

You completed the road map
and have started to use the tools necessary to live out your faith well.

Let the team know!

A couple of things to know as you complete this road map:

1. We'd love to know what you thought. Take a minute to scan the QR code to the left and provide answers to a couple key questions. This book is a tool and if we aren't careful, our tools can get dull or rusty. Your feedback helps keep it sharp.

2. If you're looking for more resources to help you grow in these six areas and continue to build healthy habits as you follow Jesus, we've got you covered! Once you complete the survey, you'll be redirected to our resources page where you can find more information on each of the six tools, links to tools we use, and guides to resources we offer here at Mosaic to help you.

You can find resources at:
mosaicchristian.org/baptismroadmap.

3. You're on the adventure of a lifetime as you follow Jesus. We're proud of you and we're in your corner.

If there's any way we can help you, let us know at baptism@mosaicchristian.org.

A space for your thoughts: Feel free to use this page to remember what you studied and write down the important things that you want to remember.
