

LITTLE WINGS CHILDCARE TESTIMONIALS

CHLOE R.

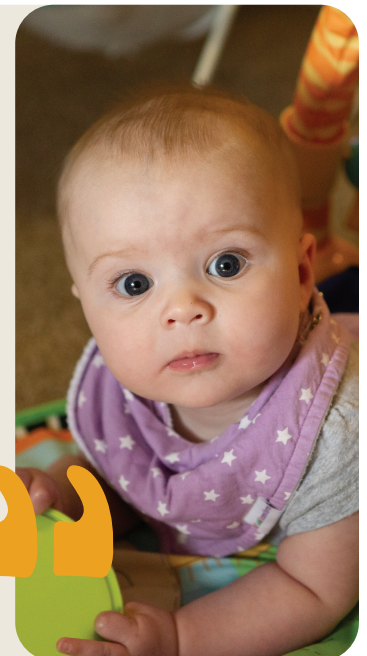

I would highly recommend Little Wings if you value a loving staff, structured schedule, safe environment, & fun educational curriculum for your little one!

I am a developmental therapist with a specialization in communication through First Steps Indiana. I have the privilege of spending one hour a week in the Little Wings building and have had nothing but positive interactions. I have spent time in a few different classrooms and they all have a great system of structured activities to promote individual play and scheduled activities such as crafts, songs, calendar time, Bible lessons, and more. Many teachers even implement simple sign language to help children of all stages to communicate and advocate for themselves. I also appreciate that Little Wings teachers implement a prayer time before most transitions to allow children to regulate and calm their energy before moving to the next activity in the schedule.

We can't say enough good things about what they do there and how they have helped our son. From when we called Lori inquiring about care to his first day, they have been responsive and accommodating.

We learned about St. John Little Wings through a general search for care in the area. We also know a few people who have been affiliated with St. John as well. Our son has been going to Little Wings for almost a year. He has been in speech therapy elsewhere for almost a year, and we love hearing when Little Wings staff tells us how much he has developed with his speech there. He's also had no behavioral issues since he's been at Little Wings, and I think it's due to the fact of the positive environment that Little Wings has and the staff there.

We first heard about Little Wings and quickly joined the waitlist—something just felt right. After coming from a corporate daycare, we were thrilled to find a place where our son is not just clean and happy, but truly thriving. Every single day, we see growth. His caretakers genuinely love him, and they see him the way we do. That's every parent's hope. The staff not only support our son, they guide us as a family. We are so grateful.

There are few decisions as impactful to you and your children's lives as deciding which daycare they will attend. Finding a place and people that you are comfortable leaving your infant or little ones is challenging. Upon meeting and interacting with staff and seeing their passion for the growth of the children in their care, we knew Little Wings would be a great fit. It was a decision that has positively impacted our lives, and our kids' lives. You can't ask for anything more than caring staff, supportive teachers, and a safe environment for your children. When needing someone to be with your kids for 40 hours a week, you need more than someone to just watch your child, you need them to be a friend, teacher, mentor, and partner in raising those children and the staff at Little Wings fills those roles and so much more.

We've been so grateful for the loving, family environment at Little Wings and for the peace of mind that comes with knowing our son is truly cared for. Not only has he grown in foundational skills like his ABCs and counting, but what truly sets this daycare apart is their commitment to nurturing his faith. It's a blessing to see him come home talking about Jesus, singing worship songs, and learning to pray... and he's only 2! We couldn't ask for a better partner in raising our child to know and love God. The light in us sees all the light in them!

Little Wings has been an incredible place for our kids the last several years. We are consistently reminded of the love and attention our kids receive from the staff through moments when our daughter sings along to Bible songs, gets excited when it's chapel day, or teaches her baby dolls about Jesus. Our kids love the occasional gatherings and seeing staff out in the community. They have partnered with us through some tough situations and checked in when our kids have been gone. We are beyond grateful for the staff at Little Wings and the impact they have had on our kids!
