Overview

It is no secret that learning to manage our money is really important! Budgets, living within our means, savings, there is so much to learn! But, what really matters is learning that bringing our finances under God's authority is the best way to manage our money. When finances are brought up, we tend to get a little too serious, when really, it is not that complicated! When we make God the center, everything else falls into place. It doesn't have to be hard! All our finances and resources belong to Jesus, and when we submit them under his authority, that means they are under God's Kingdom blessing!

On this episode Pastors Jimmy and Kim talk about their journey of choosing to bring their finances under God's Kingdom Realm. From learning to trust God over their finances, to their experience with tithing, to learning how to use their resources how God intended, this episode is packed full of encouragement. Don't let your finances create extra stress in your life! Submit them to Jesus and listen to what God has for you! And, this episode is loaded with wisdom on how to do just that!
