Questions and Comments

Overview

This week we are picking up from last week’s episode and instead of looking back, we are looking forward to new beginnings and the year 2021! It is always so helpful to look at the next year and see how we can grow, redirect, and learn as we move into a new season. When we choose to ask God about the plans he has for us, he can help lay out how we should prepare for the new year. This vision is so helpful in living out the life he has called us to live! As we are moving into the new normal, we can work beside God and be proactive and intentional in the new year.

On this episode Pastors Jimmy and Kim talk about how they are looking forward to 2021 and how to plan and prepare for a new season. From asking God to guide them in specific areas to intentionally planning for rest and recharge, this episode will both encourage and equip you going into 2021!
