

Industry Pioneers Unite to Launch Innovative New Pontoon Boat Company, Evotti.

Elkhart, IN — September 3, 2025 — A groundbreaking new pontoon boat company, Evotti, has officially launched, founded by a team of pioneers with a combined 500+ years of industry experience. With decades of innovation, craftsmanship, and leadership behind them, this group is setting out to transform the pontoon boating industry.

“We’re not just building boats—we’re building better experiences,” said Andrew Bona, Evotti. “With the combined expertise of our team, we know exactly where the industry has fallen short, and we’re here to deliver solutions that will raise the standard for performance, reliability, and customer satisfaction.”

The company is also making a clear promise: to be a true partner to both dealers and retail customers. By focusing on trust, transparency, and long-term relationships, the brand aims to set itself apart not only in product quality, but also in the way it supports its partners.

“Dealers and customers deserve better,” added Bona. “We’re here to deliver on that promise—building boats that last, creating programs that empower our dealers, and ensuring every retail customer feels confident in their purchase.”

This launch marks the beginning of an exciting new chapter in pontoon boating—one built on experience, integrity, and a bold vision for the future.
