

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DiMillo's Yacht Sales Acquires Hunt Yachts

PORTLAND, MAINE– March 24, 2026 — DiMillo's Yacht Sales, today, proudly announces its acquisition of key strategic assets of Hunt Yachts, LLC, from Hinckley. This milestone represents a significant evolution for DiMillo's. It re-enforces their commitment to representing timeless, high-performance yacht brands, while welcoming the family of Hunt Yachts owners to join the DiMillo's Experience.

Through this acquisition, DiMillo's Yacht Sales has secured an exclusive license with Ray Hunt Design, the legendary naval architecture firm behind the iconic deep-V hull, to use the Hunt brand name in production boatbuilding. The boats will be offered to the global market under the banner of Hunt Yachts by DiMillo's. This partnership ensures that Hunt Yachts by DiMillo's will continue the brand's legacy of delivering boats with superior ride quality, exceptional craftsmanship, and world class design, as well as further cementing DiMillo's reputation as experts in the "blue boat" business. The Hunt Yachts Ocean Series, available in both flybridge and express configurations, includes models from 56 to 76 feet. Each is skillfully constructed by the experienced craftsmen at Global Yacht Builders in Taiwan. GYB has exclusively built the Ocean Series since 2008. Currently, there are two 56' Flybridges and one 63' Flybridge in construction. This motoryacht range will complement DiMillo's distinguished portfolio of premium brands, including Sabre Yachts, Back Cove Yachts, Tiara Yachts, and MJM Yachts.

"We were honored to have been asked by the team at Hinckley and Hunt Yachts to explore this opportunity to acquire Hunt Yachts," said Chris DiMillo, founder of DiMillo's Yacht Sales. "As a Hunt owner myself, I have a deep personal appreciation for the brand's design, performance, and heritage. It is both an honor and a privilege to be the steward of this iconic brand going forward. My team is ecstatic about this next chapter – what Hunt Yachts will bring to DiMillo's, and what we will bring to the brand and Hunt Yachts family."

"DiMillo's is exceptionally well positioned to carry Hunt Yachts forward, and we're genuinely pleased to see the brand in their hands," said Gavin McClintock, Chief Executive Officer of Hinckley. "They bring deep expertise, longstanding customer relationships, and a shared commitment to quality that aligns naturally with Hunt's heritage. For Hinckley, this transition allows us to focus on our core strengths of American craftsmanship, enduring design, and a highly personalized ownership experience, as we continue to invest in the future of Hinckley Yachts and Hinckley Yacht Services.”

The announcement coincides with the opening of the Palm Beach International Boat Show, where DiMillo’s Yacht Sales will showcase a Hunt 63 Flybridge. “We worked diligently to bring this together in time for Palm Beach,” DiMillo added. “It is a momentous occasion for our team and an exciting opportunity to share the future of Hunt Yachts by DiMillo’s with our clients-present and future.”

About DiMillo’s Yacht Sales

Founded in Portland, Maine, DiMillo’s Yacht Sales is a leading marine services company, known for exceptional customer service and a curated portfolio of premium yacht brands, yacht brokerage, marinas, service, and storage facilities across the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic. DiMillo’s has built a reputation for integrity, expertise, and lasting client relationships, delivering an unparalleled ownership experience before, during, and after the sale.