Bluewater Yacht Sales expands with six additional brokers

BEAUFORT, N.C., May 12, 2026 — In an effort to expand its East Coast sales operations, Bluewater Yacht Sales has added six new brokers across four states. These brokers have come to Bluewater with prior experience in the industry and are welcome additions to the team of nearly 50 full-time sales, marketing, and administrative professionals.

Bluewater sales manager Baxter Lusink commented on the wave of new teammates, saying, “Although we are experiencing a period of unprecedented growth, we are careful to make sure that every broker embodies our company’s values. I am proud to share that we are growing our team, and I am confident that these six new brokers are all professionals who have the highest integrity and will be great assets to our customers.” Among the new brokers are Bill Slaughter in Pensacola, Fla., Alex Proctor from Beaufort, N.C., Stephen Palmer in Virginia Beach, Va., Anthony Puglisi in Ocean City, Md., John Guidotti in Baltimore, Md., and Mike McGuire in Annapolis, Md.

These new teammates bring a wealth of industry experience to the already tenured team of brokers who are a part of Bluewater’s sales force. The company recently expanded its operations with larger offices in Annapolis, Beaufort, and Palm Beach, each of which allow for more people and additional capabilities. Over the course of the past three months, Bluewater relocated its Annapolis office to Safe Harbor Port Annapolis, built out a larger office within Safe Harbor Jarrett Bay, and moved to an upgraded office at Safe Harbor Old Port Cove. The combination of better facilities and additional qualified brokers will enable the company to better serve customers throughout the Mid-Atlantic and Florida.
