00:20:40 dianefunston: Your words are not matching when you are speaking

00:20:41 Darlene Simmons: Is the Tacony transmission set for HD in zoom ?

00:20:43 Cathy M: My video is good so maybe it is internet speed

00:20:45 Dee from New Hampshire: Hello from New Hampshire

00:20:48 simplejoys: Great video here in Texas.

00:20:51 Cara: It's not too bad, just a little delayed, but nothing I can't understand

00:21:16 Teresa: Difficult to watch.

00:21:16 Cathy M: I am on super highspeed internet - over 1 Gb speed so it might be the internet speed

00:21:23 Cathy M: You look good to me

00:21:31 Mary Vassalotti: It is coming through fine for me.

00:22:07 Nancy Goodman: Still choppy for me

00:22:07 Sharon Faltemier: echo

00:22:08 Michelle Kaufman: It is good enough. I can read the button that said memory. I really think it varies by people's internet. We pay for the top speed at our house.

00:22:08 Linda Nash: A little echo.

00:22:10 Kim Harrington: Looks the same to me

00:22:10 TroyJennene Gibbs: just a bit LAG, not much

00:22:11 judyh: echo

00:22:11 Kim Goedhart: no plus echo

00:22:11 Teresa: Not better and I'm not on wifi.

00:22:12 Sandy: echo echo

00:22:12 Karen Rosselli: looks great for me

00:22:17 Myrtie: the video is better but the sound is like you're in a tunnel

00:22:20 Cindy Petzold: getting feedback now

00:22:20 Karen Clifford: now there is an echo and you are still choppy on quality

00:22:21 Leah: Technology is wonderful when it works

00:22:23 Lyn Sellers: this pic is better .. the one with the Halloween uqilt behind you

00:22:23 Betsy: looks good but you sound like you are in a cave. Slight echo

00:22:25 Cathy M: It is the internet speed

00:22:26 TroyJennene Gibbs: but that is from both computers connected

00:22:27 Ellen Rudd: I can live with the slight delay

00:22:32 dianefunston: Picture is good but there is an echo

00:22:32 katiemer: slight echo

00:22:37 Karen Rosselli: it looks fine here

00:22:39 Deb Bone-Harris: Looks fine - f

00:22:40 Cathy M: Those of us on internet and on highspeed can see and hear you fine

00:22:44 regaly@charter.net: It's totally tolerable

00:22:47 Darlene Simmons: Feels like not set at HD. If you hold still it looks good, but if you move it blurs

00:22:53 katiemer: no more echo

00:22:53 Betsy: MUCH better!

00:22:56 karen ouhrabka: Should we have embroidery unit on?

00:22:58 Leah: I can handle a slight delay no problem

00:22:59 Leiann: Yes this is better

00:23:04 TroyJennene Gibbs: This is better

00:23:39 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: thank you

00:23:39 Leah: Thank you for that

00:23:39 Linda Nash: Thank you for the access.

00:23:40 Sue Cleek: Yeah for forever access!

00:23:43 Glenda Marsh: That's the BEST part....unlimited watching!!

00:23:47 Darlene Simmons: All sounds good. You, Patty and Team have a great plan.

00:24:08 Ellen Rudd: Unlimited watching is why I joined

00:24:09 Darlene Simmons: Ok to go forward with blur, from my perspective. I'll just think you and Patty have a we bit too much wine.

00:24:25 TroyJennene Gibbs: the closer you get to the camera the better the picture is

00:24:28 katiemer: love your hair

00:24:36 Donna: Looks like your hair is longer, Mike

00:24:40 katiemer: Picture and sound are great

00:24:49 Sandy Haas: What about any breaks during the webinar?

00:24:55 Barbara: any way we can get the written file before the presentation.....would be helpful to make notes

00:24:56 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: wild man

00:24:57 Janet: Hello everyone!

00:25:05 katiemer: You look like a surfer boy from sunny California

00:25:05 cara dorn: Do you have the date for the next video?

00:25:06 Donna: You look great,

00:25:09 Ellen Rudd: Its choppy, but livable.

00:25:22 Lisa Young: Lots of echo now

00:25:41 TroyJennene Gibbs: I like that idea of what BARBARA stated - getting written info before next session

00:29:14 Diana -Princeton, NJ: yes

00:29:22 Mary Beth Reynolds: not frozen now...maybe you weren't moving

00:29:24 Roxanna: only 50% good

00:29:26 Leah: It was better before the view changed

00:29:27 Darlene Simmons: no change in visual quality. Transmission speed still appears to be an issue, but I can live with it.

00:29:37 Cathy M: It will work better on a computer

00:29:45 katienemer: I can hear and see you

00:29:46 TroyJennene Gibbs: I can hear very well

00:29:48 Cathy M: Issues are related to internet speed

00:29:49 Elizabeth Gibson: it looks good to me, you are not pixelated anymore and I can hear fine

00:29:50 Karen Rosselli: its fine

00:29:51 Betsy: yes. good enough is sometimes beter than perfect!!

00:29:51 Linda Nash: I am ok with what we can see and hear.

00:29:58 Debra Felker: I'm on ipad - hear well.

00:29:59 nance: Its great

00:29:59 Cathy M: I can see you really good and I am on high speed

00:30:02 Ellen Rudd: Just a little off; its good enough

00:30:07 Deb Bone-Harris: Its fine!

00:30:09 Zoom user: Lips don't match your words

00:30:10 Connie Lucero: I am good with the picture and sound

00:30:33 Betsy: when will the pdf come?

00:30:47 Michelle Kaufman: This happens with every webinar. Some people have trouble with video but if you have some who have good video then you know it isn't the presenter.

00:30:47 Sue Cleek: Advanced is good!!

00:31:23 Barbara: awesome!

00:31:23 Ellen Rudd: Mike. What is your email

00:32:04 Elizabeth Gibson: April is great!

00:32:15 Sandy Haas: Will you write that info for the landing page in the notes please.

00:32:35 Bethany: Details on Landing Page please

00:32:37 Tacony Webinar: We will review the landing page at the end of the class.

00:33:22 Robin: Still have no sound.

00:34:10 Michelle Kaufman: Sound is working

00:34:14 Robin: Have it now, thanks

00:34:20 Leiann: I would love to do this quilt!

00:34:31 Ann Lanza: If we have to leave early will we get an email with a link to the recording and landing page?

00:34:46 Sue Cleek: Such a great quilt and loved the instructions!!

00:35:01 carole: Those were GREAT Classes!

00:35:04 Tacony Webinar: Yes, emails with the landing page will be sent out probably tomorrow. April is having a grandbaby right now so we are going to send in the morning.

00:35:32 Cathy M: Tell April we send Congratulations on her new grandbaby!

00:35:50 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: congratulations, April!!

00:35:52 Donna: Congrats to April!

00:35:54 Leiann: Congratulations to April!

00:36:18 Leah: Congratulations April. Grandbabies are wonderful

00:36:22 husto: Congrats and much envy!!

00:37:22 Kim Harrington: How do you store the files from the Halloween quilt or any big project in IQ? I found myself forgetting what was what once I had created such a huge volume of memory files.... Any tips on that? Thanks.

00:37:36 Donna: that is adorable!

00:39:24 Glenda Marsh: be a cute garden flag!

00:40:28 Cathy M: The mouse had a baby lock logo on it - does baby lock now offer a mouse for our machines?

00:41:53 Tacony Webinar: The Ellisimo Gold use to have a mouse included. These are extra mice from that. We do not sell them. They were pretty pricey as far as a wired mouse prices go.

00:44:37 Donna: I wish BL would sell a mouse. I went through 4 to find one that worked on my machine

00:45:15 Tacony Webinar: I can suggest again. It just was cost prohibitive last time we looked at adding that product.

00:45:37 Linda Nash: I would purchase one.

00:45:55 Donna: Linda Nash - I would too!

00:47:06 judyh: the cheaper mouse workss

00:47:36 Linda Nash: Judyh, what brand do you have? Where did you purchase?

00:49:20 Tacony Webinar: Thanks for the feedback. I will share. If memory serves these would be over $50. Hard to compete with the cheap mice you can purchase.

00:50:02 Ellen Rudd: Yes. I spent under 410 for a Logitech wired from Amazon

00:50:12 Ellen Rudd: $10

00:50:15 Lyn Sellers: a mouse that is non-wireless, non roller-ball, and is basic right or left click and plug in can be purchased for about $10 from WalMart or Amazon.

00:50:47 Donna: I bought 3 cheap ones that didn't work, IDK?

00:51:08 Tacony Webinar: Maybe we just need to make a Baby Lock decal for all of you to put on your mouse:)

00:51:16 Linda Nash: Thanks for the information. I agree with Donna; some don't work with my machine.

00:51:53 Cindy Petzold: Linda Nash I have an Insignia from WalMart. It was $10 or less

00:52:18 Glenda Marsh: can that the camera zoom just a bit to the screen?

00:52:27 Ellen Rudd: Logitech wired works

00:52:30 Leah: Looks like you are overlapping the shapes a little. Is that correct?

00:52:42 Mary O: I bought this one on Amazon for $8 and works like a charm on my Solaris Logitech B100 Corded Mouse, Wired USB Mouse for Computers and Laptops, Right or Left Hand Use - Black

00:53:16 Ellen Rudd: Mary O. Same one I have from amazon

00:53:35 Ann Lanza: I got a Logitech B100 mouse that works with Solaris and Destinys. It's a full size corded mouse. I also have a Sabrent mini wired optical mouse on Amazon that works well with Solaris

00:54:23 Cathy M: when I purchased my top of the line machine in 2004, they made an external CD reader/writer and mouse for it as an upgrade type bundle. I still have both and they both still work, even in my Solaris 2(upgraded to Vision).

00:54:27 brenda riffe: Please limit the chat to what Mike is working on. Chit chat is distracting

00:54:32 Linda Nash: Thank you all for the information! I will check these out.

00:55:02 Owner: I bought one from Walmart, one from Amazon - neither worked. Third time I bought one from Gloria Horn that worked like a champ. It was a little more money but I would have been money ahead with the 2 wired mice that didn't work. LOL

00:55:21 Linda Nash: Sorry; I understand completely.

00:57:56 Cathy M: This is a very clever design using the shapes!

00:58:40 pattireed: im trying to brainstorm a flamingo!

01:02:34 Donna: Would you be saving during this process??

01:03:18 Tacony Webinar: You are always welcome to save. IQ Designer does have Auto Resume so if the power goes out it will bring the artwork back up next time you go into IQ Designer

01:03:20 pattireed: should you be saving as you design?

01:03:52 Leah: I know you said will clean up but to me would be easier to clean up as I go so I don't get confused with the different shapes.

01:03:54 Tacony Webinar: Huge fan of saving often! I think Mike knows where he is going.

01:04:14 Tacony Webinar: That is also another option to clean as you go!!

01:04:35 Tacony Webinar: I think he wants to show you how it all comes together before you delete lines that you might need later.

01:04:47 Michelle Kaufman: I trust Mike's process

01:05:05 Cathy M: this design is very cute!

01:05:22 Barbara: loving this!!

01:05:24 Tacony Webinar: It is really a clever way to combining shapes to make something totally different.

01:06:18 Betsy: can you please show the pillow front again just to get a baseline

01:06:34 Leah: Great process. I just have trouble with my old mind imagining shapes into something else. lol

01:06:48 Betsy: THANK YOU!

01:06:54 Darlene Simmons: Any chance you can get the camera to zoom in on the Solaris screen when you are showing the steps on the machine?

01:07:35 Darlene Simmons: I was able to zoom in on my screen to better see the Solaris screen

01:07:47 Tacony Webinar: I zoomed in more on that camera.

01:07:57 Tacony Webinar: are you seeing the screen full screen.

01:08:23 Ann Lanza: yes

01:09:09 Leah: That makes sense. Thank you

01:09:53 Leah: Amazing how it all came together

01:11:02 Shari: I agree, it is amazing how it all came together!

01:11:08 Leah: yes

01:12:12 karen: Before you erase - would you be able to put color on each bunny part to make it easier to decipher the parts?

01:13:12 Cathy M: Can you change the color of the drawing lines?

01:14:34 Cathy M: good explanation of why not to colorize

01:18:07 katienemer: I love it

01:18:09 Carolyn: yes

01:18:09 Ellen Rudd: yes

01:18:10 carole: GREAT!

01:18:11 Kathy: yes

01:18:12 kay: It's great!

01:18:13 Leah: yes great info

01:18:13 Angela Schultz: oh yes...this is excellent

01:18:15 Kimber Peterson: YES

01:18:16 Kathryn Kohler: yes

01:18:16 Donna: yes

01:18:17 Leni Herman: Love it

01:18:17 Rose Ham: This is wonderful

01:18:18 Suzanne: love it!

01:18:19 nance: Love

01:18:19 Laurel Moslener: Fabulous

01:18:20 Nancy Goodman: This is exactly what I wanted!

01:18:20 Cindy Rhaume: love it

01:18:20 Karen Rosselli: this is fantastic

01:18:24 Karen Clifford: super happy!!!

01:18:25 Judy: Real nice!

01:18:25 Abbie: this is a great project!.

01:18:25 Betsy: Love your bunny - but am thinking about doing a horse - doable do you think?

01:18:26 Judy welch: Yes

01:18:28 Kathryn Kohler: good stuff

01:18:29 Sharie Bergquist: I don't have the magic wand or the ability to set my sizes. Is this an upgrade that I need to purchase?

01:18:36 judyh: I am shaking my head

01:18:38 Cathy M: So to clarify, the bottom half is one huge applique and the top is another

01:18:44 Cindy Petzold: Would never have put all the shapes together before erasing. Good info

01:18:49 karen: Not lost - you are describing it perfectly.

01:18:49 Mary O: This way of teaching (1 project) works well for my learning style.

01:19:03 cara dorn: really enjoying this. Love the format of watching and listening and NOT taking notes.

01:19:04 Darlene Simmons: I love the magic wand on my Solaris

01:19:07 pattireed: yes, i tend to do a lot of embroidery and quilting and neglect the IQ design!

01:19:09 Betsy: You are doing a great job of explaining process!

01:19:17 Patricia Kropf: Yes, this is really a fun way to use IQ. Thank you 😊

01:19:20 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: the mouse is more concise than the stylist?

01:19:28 karen ouhrabka: When I go to select for instance one ear and move when I go to move another ear it double clicks with a sound and doesn't select with red box. Undo doesn't seem to do it.

01:19:55 Myrtie: nice tip

01:21:00 Cathy M: phone pics are a great tip.

01:21:24 Donna: The Sewed Notebooks work great for that

01:22:01 Lyn Sellers: I love these hints as to how to erase more efficiently .. :)

01:22:54 Lyn Sellers: I like to erase but I don't like drawing the lines... ugh

01:23:29 pattireed: you mean there is no Kai Ripper for erasing?

01:23:45 Ann Lanza: The Halloween Quilt behind Mike was made using IQ? Are there instructions available for it?

01:23:47 TroyJennene Gibbs: QUESTION: the way to check is filling it after you do the erasing - is that correct?

01:24:58 Linda Nash: Where can we find that group and the lessons to do that quilt?

01:25:10 Sandy Haas: Would it be easier to erase the part of the lines touching the primary lines first then do a bigger piece/erasing that area after?

01:25:14 TroyJennene Gibbs:

01:27:08 karen ouhrabka: What kind of mouse would you purchase for use on solaris?

01:27:12 Linda Nash: That feature has saved my designs so many times.

01:27:15 Tacony Webinar: Mikes group is called Mama's Boy Designs.

01:27:19 Laurel Moslener: Are the videos still available for the Halloween quilt in Mikes Facebook group?

01:27:46 Tacony Webinar: Let me find the mouse recommendations for the machine and post to the landing page.

01:27:56 Tacony Webinar: Yes, they are still out in his group.

01:29:37 Kimber Peterson: how did you make it curved instead of straight?

01:29:41 Leni Herman: That's cool

01:29:47 Linda Nash: Thank you for posting the mouse recommendations on the Landing Page.

01:31:11 Leah: Glad you are showing all the tools. Didn't realize you could drop points.

01:32:11 carole: Beautiful

01:32:17 Betsy: Any breaks coming up?

01:32:18 Kimber Peterson: What determines if your drawn line is straight or curved?

01:32:40 Leah: After seeing this I think I could spend days playing. Looks like a lot of crock pot dinners in the future.

01:32:43 Debra Yates Formoso: So cute

01:33:05 Tacony Webinar: We will break at 2:30.

01:33:20 pattireed: save again!

01:33:36 Kimber Peterson: Thanks

01:34:16 Linda Nash: This is great! Thank you for this; the ideas are unlimited with this process.

01:35:09 katiemer: When you save, can you name your saves? Otherwise how do you know what is what?

01:35:22 Tacony Webinar: You can not. They are automatically named.

01:35:42 Kimber Peterson: What is the advantage to doing an entire placement stitch rather than individual pieces?? Like most purchased patterns?

01:36:13 Tacony Webinar: Since he is doing a layered applique it saves you multiple steps and give you the entire placement at once.

01:36:34 Kimber Peterson: But why would you want an entire placement stitch?

01:39:24 Leah: yes

01:39:38 wendypullin: Will we get a break?

01:39:56 Leah: yes

01:39:57 Cindy Petzold: yes

01:39:58 Nancy Goodman: Yes

01:40:00 Barbara: yes!!

01:40:00 carole: YES!

01:40:02 Karen Clifford: Yyes

01:40:03 karen: Yes I'm loving this

01:40:03 katiemer: YES!!!!

01:40:03 Cathy M: this is great!

01:40:03 Carolyn: yes sir

01:40:04 Ann Lanza: YES11

01:40:04 15805: YES1

01:40:05 Ellen: Yes! Very fun

01:40:06 Donna: yes. great class!

01:40:08 Barbara: say what!!

01:40:08 Leah: Oh no

01:40:10 Joy: This is so great!

01:40:13 Kimber Peterson: LOL

01:40:13 kay: This is a blast!

01:40:22 Karen Clifford: I'm in trouble!

01:40:23 judyh: I am sick

01:40:35 judyh: lol

01:40:36 wendypullin: B the answer... C the answer...

01:40:43 Leah: Well we have a month :)

01:41:01 carole: This was what I dreamed of when I bought my Solaris!

01:41:28 Ellen Rudd: What are the leaves on the cart top?

01:41:38 Ellen Rudd: Carrot top

01:41:53 Tacony Webinar: Yarn just stitched on top of the carrot on the sewing side.

01:41:59 Myrtie: the dog ate mine :)

01:42:18 Ellen Rudd: TW. Thanks

01:42:33 Shari: Do you have to use a particular stylus to draw the bush?

01:42:54 Joy: Can you go back to a darker color for us to see better

01:43:31 Cathy M: better

01:43:32 Leah: yes better

01:43:33 katiemer: yes

01:43:35 Margret: can we see the pillow periodically, so we can get an idea what he is matching

01:44:08 Cara: Mike, did you just "wing" this design or did you have a picture you used for the idea?

01:44:17 Ruth Parness: Looks like a crayon.

01:45:06 carole: A Mike origin;

01:45:08 Candy: .Wing It!

01:46:14 Arlene Kelsey: you keep talking about outside the box and lines...my family constantly says I don't see the box or the line..lol

01:46:29 Janet Malwitz: Having watched Mike's videos on the Hallowwen quilt has made this easier to understand what he's doing.

01:46:31 Judy welch: Where is picture?

01:46:51 Karen Clifford: perfect!

01:46:53 Darlene Simmons: Awesome first half of Adv Month 1. I love it

01:46:54 Elizabeth Gibson: thank you

01:46:55 Cathy M: okay'

01:47:57 Leah: Loving this class. Hate that I have to leave at 5:30 my time. Glad will have the recorded one to rewatch,

01:48:31 Tacony Webinar: There is a little arrow on the left top of the chat and you can minimize it or close it.

01:52:00 Donna: Judy Welch - picture is about 3 posts above yours.

01:54:42 Betsy: GOt the pic - downloaded - but says what app do I want to open it with???

01:54:55 Carla McGuire: There is no picture when I pull up chat. I've scrolled back to the beginning

01:55:00 Linda Nash: How long is our break?

01:55:14 Nancy: I don't see the picture.

01:55:54 Cara: The picture is available to download. You won't see until you download it

01:56:00 Donna: 2:27 pm from Tacony

01:56:35 Robin: I'm not looking for sympathy, but I'm finding I lack the imagination to come up with this process. Will have to practice a lot, and maybe the homework will help.

01:57:23 Roxanna: If you save from IQ to a USB, then you CAN???? take to any machine? Please refresh my memory...no pun intended

01:57:32 Leiann: I'm with you Robun.

01:57:35 Leah: Robin I am the same way. Hard for me to take a shape and imagine it as something else.

01:57:41 Sandy: 3:27 from TW

01:57:55 Roxanna: Look at clip art for inspiration....or coloring book pages

01:57:56 Tacony Webinar: Break until 2:45 Central time so 5 more minutes. This is al supposed to help open you al up to the possibilities of how you could use shaped.

01:58:08 carole: The more you do this, the more sense it makes until to start to "think" in these terms as you look at a object.

01:58:19 Ellen Rudd: This is the best way to learn for me. Its tedious, but all the repetition of shapes, resize, mirror, rotate, erases great. At 72, with teenage grandsons, I probably won't stitch it out, but I definitely will recreate it in IQ to practice how its done. I'm glad I'm here.

01:58:19 Tacony Webinar: You can do something similar using clipart, JPEG or scanned images.

01:58:40 Donna: Amazing

01:59:16 Lyn Sellers: I don't hear anything.. I had to step away for a few minutes .. are we on break ?

01:59:19 Robin: Yes ,practice should make a load of difference.

01:59:23 Tacony Webinar: Roxanna- Are you talking Artwork or Embroidery File?

01:59:38 Tacony Webinar: We are on break for a few more minutes

01:59:44 Leah: Is it a problem if you don't get every little dot when cleaning up?

01:59:56 Roxanna: This entire "rabbit" design

02:00:55 Roxanna: This begins as artwork, them "becomes" a file at the final save?

02:00:59 Cathy M: Ellen Rudd - my grandsons are all grown up too, but this would be a nice touch on my sofa for Easter and Spring. Also I make things for the children in the hospital...

02:01:02 Tacony Webinar: If you have dots left out it will stitch out and become part of your design. That is why Mike showed you how you can go in and check your lines on the NEXT or Preview Screen to avoid having them.

02:01:46 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: Now this project is very similar to the Halloween quilt. You build background to front with rabbit is last?

02:01:55 Benita Walters: I want you to know I have already learned something valuable! Thank you!

02:03:12 Tacony Webinar: Palette can't read the artwork files but you could create something in Palette 11 using the tools in that software.

02:03:47 Tacony Webinar: It might have been upgrade kit 1

02:03:50 Glenda Marsh: Is the current screen w/ Mike talking supposed to be frozen??

02:03:56 Roxanna: USB then keeps from adding memory to your machine

02:03:57 Cathy M: Patty, I digitize a lot and I was thinking that very thing about how to create something like this using shapes in Palette

02:05:05 Betsy: I've saved the design on my laptop - and now trying to open it but it keeps asking me what app I want to open it with.??

02:05:24 pattireed: i have Pallate and haven't even opened it!

02:06:20 Leah: Thank you for getting us all this information. You guys are the best.

02:06:23 Betsy: I saved the pic on my laptop but cannot open it. What app do I use to open it with 02:06:38 Sharie Bergquist: but without the wand, how would I reselect something if I accidentally click off?

02:06:50 Roxanna: Screenshot

02:07:22 Ellen Rudd: It went to photos on my computer.

02:07:22 Robin: Undo is our friend

02:07:32 kay: I was able to open the picture with no problem. FYI

02:07:37 Carolyn: picture came to me opened. It is how you have your computer setup.

02:07:38 Judy welch: Good job so far!

02:07:47 Marlene Hite: I was able to open the jpg

02:07:48 Cara: Betsy, try opening as a photo

02:07:56 Kathi Waters: If it asks you what program to use to open it choose Photos

02:08:01 Cindie: 😊

02:08:47 Betsy: Thanks for tips on photo! Got it thanks to y'all

02:09:02 Judy welch: That's the part that confuses me.

02:09:14 Leah: When you save it does it save each step separately or over ride the first save?

02:09:50 pattireed: this makes me appreciate the cost of designs online!

02:09:53 Tacony Webinar: Next time you will have access to the landing page and we will consider posting the instructions the day of the class. We don't want everyone working ahead in the clalss.

02:11:06 Myrtie: I would like the instructions during the lecture so I can make notes as you go

02:11:08 Donna: I like not having instructions because I pay closer attention in class

02:11:30 Elizabeth Gibson: Thank you, I would prefer to see the instructions happen in real time than to be distracted by them and then later get the written directions. Maybe a picture before but there is something to say for suspense too!

02:11:33 Leah: Donna I agree

02:11:50 pattireed: I'm definitely paying more attention by not taking notes!

02:12:03 Tacony Webinar: We are making the recordings available and you all will get those so you can go back. We are try to accommodate all learning types and also using our teaching experiences.

02:12:52 Donna: I'm happy just attending, if truth be told. Loving it

02:12:53 Tacony Webinar: We are planning on being a month ahead from now on with the projects. You all will get a preview of next month's project today and we will post a pic on the landing page.

02:13:23 Marlene Hite: You both do a wonderful job teaching. I'll take notes on my second time watching it. 😊

02:14:05 pattireed: scary!!!!

02:14:23 Leah: Yes it is scary

02:14:25 Donna: 🐱

02:15:13 Cathy M: If we have the instructions and a laptop, it is very possible to do on our machines as you guys are teaching - makes it more like a real class rather than a lecture

02:16:05 pattireed: i might be happy with just a bunny pillow!!!!

02:17:13 Nancy Goodman: I prefer watching and then making the project

02:17:19 husto: Could you not just draw a line across the design and memorize it and then add it in when you go to embroidery. So like just a line across to designate the blue sky.

02:17:21 Carolyn: Perfect the way it is being taught

02:17:37 Mavis Anderson: Patty, that is why the video is so valuable

02:17:42 nance: agree perfect

02:17:48 Ellen: I think this format is working just great!

02:17:58 Robyn Juris: doing a great job!

02:18:22 Roxanna: I am jotting down times so I can find what I need to watch again

02:18:44 nance: Smart girl

02:18:59 Leah: Love the undo button!!

02:18:59 elaine kaiser: This is great

02:19:52 Cathy M: Gotta love that magic wand tool

02:20:32 Leah: Instead of erasing everything you don't need could you just change color on each tack down part so they stitch one at a time?

02:21:11 Tacony Webinar: They are all one line so you would change all the lines unless you erase them or break the lines.

02:21:22 Myrtie: is there overlap of applique pieces? looks like they just touch???

02:22:04 cara dorn: did we create the pink sections in the ears?

02:24:15 Leah: Ok got it. So more trouble than erasing. Thank you

02:26:32 Leah: yes

02:26:33 Barbara: yes

02:26:38 Ellen: 👍

02:26:38 Elizabeth Gibson: good question about the inside of the ears (the pink part).

02:26:38 Elizabeth P: can you select the individual pieces and reduce the tackdown by a smidge

02:26:39 Ellen Rudd: yes

02:26:39 kay: yes

02:27:29 Elizabeth Gibson: maybe it is embroidery thread and not applique (the pink in the ears).

02:27:37 Tacony Webinar: It is stitched

02:28:22 Barbara: got it

02:28:26 Kimber Peterson: yes

02:29:29 Carla McGuire: This is so cool and very informative.

02:29:42 Betsy: I'm not getting the zig zag comments

02:30:19 Tacony Webinar: We will hold on questions and I will answer from the chat. We just know this is a confusing part for a of people and want to clarify before we move forward.

02:30:51 Barbara: yes

02:31:00 Kimber Peterson: yes

02:32:13 Leah: yes

02:32:16 Karen Clifford: cool

02:32:17 Barbara: the fence post was finished out

02:32:19 Roxanna: Right clip for points on lasso?

02:32:19 Robin: So, for example, we would tack down one big piece of green then trim away that which was unwanted?

02:32:22 pattireed: you are BRAVE!!!

02:32:24 Sandi Kupras: yes

02:32:28 Lyn Sellers: wow yes.. I really never could use that lasso effectively

02:32:35 karen ouhrabka: What would you change the stitch to size and type?

02:32:49 Tacony Webinar: Those will all be in the instructions.

02:32:55 Leah: So is this step just for the zigzag or zigzag and satin stitch?

02:33:22 heather waggoner: missing picket in fence

02:34:02 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: is we have not cleaned up the fence outline that is stitch

02:34:08 Tacony Webinar: Yes, you will have the master all over placement stitches, then you would use that master artwork to isolate the lines that would create the tack down. This is the last step where we are just adding the satin/Zig Zag Stitches.

02:34:22 katiemer: Could you make it darker, it's hard to see anything

02:34:44 katiemer: OK, I can see it now

02:35:24 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: sorry, can we clean up the outline after we saved it?

02:35:31 Tacony Webinar: So, each step you have to look at the artwork differently and you will assign the appropriate line type, like a run for the placement and tack down and then a satin for the finishing top.

02:35:57 Linda Nash: This helps bc if I got to this, and this came up, I would worry that I had one something wrong so thank you.

02:36:18 Kathryn Kohler: say that again

02:36:50 Laurel Moslener: Did Mike add the wood grain lines?

02:37:36 Tacony Webinar: He did, but we that is a BONUS to add a layered fill to add that additional layer into the project. He will address that in the instructions.

02:37:43 Tacony Webinar: We tend to be extra

02:37:48 Kathryn Kohler: thank you

02:38:30 Kimber Peterson: Minky :)

02:38:35 pattireed: minky

02:38:37 Carol: Batting

02:38:42 Carolyn: Excited that I will have the video to replay over and over as I work on this project.

02:39:18 Robyn Juris: Now I want to take the Solaris Get Away...again!! So much to learn....that I've forgotten.

02:39:43 Nancy: Agree Robyn!!

02:39:44 Robin: Agreed, Robyn

02:39:53 katiemer: Do you tack down the wash away before the satin stick?

02:39:59 Leiann: Agree Robyn!

02:40:14 Cathy M: Did Mike use an underlayment under the pick?

02:40:22 Cathy M: pink not pick

02:40:22 Barbara: i put topper on most everything

02:41:11 cara dorn: I can see where a picture of the finished product would be VERY helpful. You are going to include this in the landing page?

02:41:34 Tacony Webinar: Yes, it is posted up there and will be on the main page of the instructions.

02:41:59 Val Carroll: .

02:42:25 Barbara: aha!!

02:42:46 Cindie: 🤔

02:42:50 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: Could you use heat and bond to put rabbit on the background? Is the Sherpa too thick?

02:44:08 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: yes

02:44:58 Barbara: yep

02:44:59 Leah: Got it

02:45:04 judyh: yes

02:45:07 pattireed: overload!!!!!!

02:45:08 Sandi Kupras: very cool

02:45:31 Lyn Sellers: a little confused about doing all no sew and then you said "how that affected an added shape". can you repeat that please ...

02:45:39 Robin: Agreed, pattireed!

02:47:03 Cathy M: Wondering if you used the colored underlayment film under the pink as you stitched it on top of the Sherpa to get the pile down?

02:47:25 Roxanna: Can hotfix be used under cork or leather

02:48:31 Tacony Webinar: You could use permanent topping under the pink part of the ear and/or the nose. Tulle or chiffon fabrics can also be use to help mange the Sherpa from coming out.

02:48:32 Arlene Kelsey: somehow we lost the fence piece between the ears in the design that's on the pillow?

02:49:20 Tacony Webinar: That was just b/c he didn't add a post on this one he is showing. You can create your background however you want it to be.

02:49:33 Kathryn Kohler: do you change the ears to sew?

02:50:48 Leah: Now I understand. I was a little confused also

02:51:06 kay: With the appliqué - you are using fusible on the fabric, tack it down, trim, and then press it to fuse it to the lower fabric?

02:51:20 kay: TY

02:52:28 Leianne: I have those mats and they are great!!

02:52:31 Barbara: what is the name again

02:52:35 Tacony Webinar: EmbroideryGarden.com for the wool mats that coordinate with the hoop sizes that help when ironing in the hoop. DIME

02:52:44 Robin: Those pads look like a great investment!

02:52:45 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: they are great

02:52:47 Mary Schmidt: I have a wool mat and it stinks when I press on it

02:52:52 Kathryn Kohler: good

02:52:52 Barbara: good

02:52:53 Ellen Rudd: ok

02:52:53 katiemer: I think I can do it

02:52:55 Betsy: YEP!

02:52:55 kay: Good

02:52:57 judyh: ok

02:52:58 Cindy Rhaume: good

02:52:58 Dawn Pecorini: ok

02:52:59 carole: good

02:53:00 Sharon Neville: Have to try it myself.

02:53:01 Leah: Good but is going to take a lot of practice

02:53:01 Ellen: Makes great sense

02:53:02 wendypullin: Pretty good... It's tedious!

02:53:09 Arlene Kelsey: definitely more confident to try it

02:53:10 Donna: 👍

02:53:10 Leianne: I will have to watch again and try it.

02:53:11 Suzanne: so far so good

02:53:15 TroyJennene Gibbs: will have to try before next months project

02:53:18 Cathy M: Did you stitch out the flowers?

02:53:22 Karen Clifford: fantastic, helps me where I was having problems creating layered applique!

02:53:23 Sue Cleek: I seemingly understand it, but will I be able to actually do it - that remains to be seen!

02:53:27 Cindy Petzold: great .. makes me think out of the box

02:53:42 Glenda Marsh: I may start with JUST the bunny!!)))

02:53:44 nance: Is it Wine Time

02:53:44 Judy welch: Think I can do it with the video.:)

02:53:47 Carolyn: you have done an excellent job

02:53:57 wendypullin: Yes, the flowers? Where is the pattern for those? Is it within the solaris pattern files?

02:54:09 Cindy Rhaume: when you say we will get the instructions will we have to print them out

02:54:44 Tacony Webinar: They will be a PDF. You can print them or you can just pull them up on your computer or tablet and review them.

02:55:13 TroyJennene Gibbs: the flowers look similar to Zandra Shaws flowers

02:55:56 Michelle Kaufman: Love my ITH pressing pads from Reen at Embroidery Garden.

02:56:31 cara dorn: I think I would just draw some lines on the fence with a water soluble and free-motion on it,

02:56:32 Linda Nash: I really like the wood grain!

02:56:53 nance: Me to

02:58:24 Patricia Kropf: What a clever and fun way to make wood grain. I wouldn't have thought of that.

02:58:26 judyh: i don't think so

02:58:40 Arlene Kelsey: do we get instructions he just said for doing fill or lines?

02:59:07 Tacony Webinar: I will mention for him to add if he was not planning to.

02:59:16 pfritze: When was the sky area fill added

03:00:03 Tacony Webinar: The sky is the base fabric. You will hoop that and then stitch the all-over placement stitch on top of that. You could also add a decorative fill to the top portion if you wanted to as at that time.

03:00:46 Kathi Waters: Yikes! Just had a power outage and lost internet! Glad it camr right back on!

03:01:20 karen: In starting the process, would you use batting under the base (blue) fabric?

03:02:16 Tacony Webinar: I believe there is batting behind that blue fabric when it is hooped.

03:02:42 Betsy: are you using zig zag and sating stitch interchangeably?

03:02:52 wendypullin: Same same

03:03:16 Tacony Webinar: Yes... satin=zig zag

03:04:46 Leah: Such an easy way to make flowers.

03:05:11 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: nylon netting not cotton?

03:05:23 Tacony Webinar: Just tulle!

03:05:27 Cathy M: I really appreciate using both sewing side and embroidery side.

03:05:45 Cathy M: if you use nylon, you can use a wood burner to cut it

03:06:20 Tacony Webinar: I keep rolls of tulle in my sewing room for things like this and they are cheap!!!!

03:06:37 Patsy Drindak: Flower instructions are included, right?

03:06:38 Cathy M: I did notice the tapering stitches

03:06:43 Audrey Flock: I use a stencil cutting hot knife to trim the tulle. Safer than a lighter!

03:06:54 cara dorn: oh good idea for using the tapering stitch.

03:13:21 wendypullin: You put 30.

03:13:26 Ann Lanza: With the Solaris 3 and upgrade 3 we got the N+ foot. What is the benefit of the plastic pieces on the back of the foot?

03:13:41 Tacony Webinar: Tapering stitches are on Upgrade 3 or the Vision. You also the option to use the speed control as the width control in Settings page 1. This allows you to use the width control to adjust the stitch width and you can do that while your stitching

03:14:11 Cindy Petzold: wouldn't have thought of doing that on the sewing side

03:14:54 wendypullin: Where do you find the tapering stitches again?

03:15:35 Tacony Webinar: The N+ foot has the additional plastic piece that helps to stabilizer the foot and better stitching on the fabric.

03:15:53 Ann Lanza: thank you

03:16:12 Elizabeth Gibson: I remember Mike showing us how to taper like that on a Monday Minute.

03:16:14 Tacony Webinar: Tapering stitches can be found in the last category of stitches called T. Again, upgrade 3 or the Solaris Vision have those.

03:16:40 karen ouhrabka: Can you show the button on top that Mike is showing? I don't think I have it on vision

03:17:11 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: nice texture with the layering of stitches

03:17:34 karen ouhrabka: Thank you!!

03:18:42 wendypullin: Is the taper stitch an upgrade you buy or is it an update?

03:19:07 Tacony Webinar: Upgrade 3 that you would purchase.

03:19:31 wendypullin: Thank you. When was it released? Recently?

03:19:54 Tacony Webinar: This was launched last August when the Solaris Vision was introduced.

03:19:58 Elizabeth Gibson: but the work around with the slider bar any Solaris can do, correct?

03:20:28 Tacony Webinar: Width control using the speed slider is on any Solaris.

03:20:32 Betsy: what is Monday Minute??

03:21:11 Tacony Webinar: Monday minutes is a short FB Live Mike does on the Baby Lock Solaris Facebook Community. We have been pretty busy lately so we have not been very good with doing them.

03:21:25 Betsy: thx

03:22:01 Myrtie: what size needle do you use for the stems and leaves

03:22:16 Tacony Webinar: 80/12 for the sewing side

03:23:47 Robin: Is there an archive for the Monday Minutes?

03:23:53 Barbara: and the leaves

03:24:02 Tacony Webinar: They are all posted on the FB group and have a # that you can search for.

03:24:19 Angela Schultz: very creative...not so cookie cutter! love it!

03:24:22 karen ouhrabka: How do you join the Facebook group for Solaris?

03:24:22 Robin: Thanks

03:24:35 pattireed: understatement!

03:24:36 Zoom user: You are so creative!!

03:24:42 Barbara: exactly....brain dead

03:24:43 Carla McGuire: So many techniques. Thank you.

03:24:43 Robyn Juris: I think I'm brain dead!!

03:25:04 TroyJennene Gibbs: too much for the brain to take in -for one setting . . whew!!!

03:25:39 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: does babylock have a mouse pad?

03:25:53 Leianne: Thank goodness we can go back and watch as many times as we need to - when we want too!

03:26:15 Tacony Webinar: We make them from time to time and they might be something your Retailer carries.

03:26:25 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: thanks

03:26:53 Myrtie: Really like how you incorporate the IQ with the sewing side. Solaris has so many features, easy to forget some Thanks for doing a GREAT JOB

03:27:38 Cathy M: So when would we change the offset for the hoop?

03:30:06 Tacony Webinar: The offset is included there to make it a little smaller than the hoop size (2mm I believe) and if you to allow for fills etc. not going right up to the edge of the hoop or for a specific size block. It also makes sure if you put a line property on it like a candlewicking that it doesn't extend the embroiderable field.

03:30:49 Ann Lanza:

03:33:22 Linda Nash: I must have missed something, but what is No Sew and why do we use it?

03:34:16 Tacony Webinar: Since we already sent over the layer for placement with the run stitch, we don't need that but we need that artwork to be able to add that decorative fill. No-Sew allows you to use that artwork but not have it stitch.

03:34:49 Linda Nash: I understand. Thank you.

03:35:41 Elizabeth Gibson: yes

03:35:43 nance: Yes

03:35:43 Ann Lanza: yes

03:35:49 Carla McGuire:

03:35:57 nancy: Yup

03:35:57 Cathy M: makes sense - now we just have to do it on our own

03:35:57 Zoom user:

03:36:00 Carolyn: yes sir

03:36:01 Robin: Yes, but don't ask me in an hour!

03:36:02 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: why wouldn't you do satin stitches with each addition?

03:36:06 nancy: Thank goodness for the video lol

03:36:07 kay: Got it!

03:36:07 Kathryn Kohler: floweslast/

03:36:07 Linda Nash: Yes.....just need to remember the sequence of steps.

03:36:08 Sharon Neville: So all of the appliqué is tacked down before you do the stitching?

03:36:10 CindyH: What did you use for eyes and nose?4

03:36:13 pattireed: dont mess with the video!!!

03:36:13 Cindie: Fantastic
