00:24:02 TroyJennene Gibbs: lots of stash fabric, excellent to use it up on this

00:24:03 Michelle Kaufman: Maybe a little fabric 😊

00:24:12 karen ouhrabka: Erasing - when you touch the erase button for circle or square do you use a tool or finger to erase?

00:27:22 Kippy Alston: Hope you are feeling better, Mike!

00:28:13 Kim Harrington: If you want to use a scant 1/4" which mm setting would you use for the needle?

00:28:15 TroyJennene Gibbs: 👍

00:29:56 Roxanna: Please explain how to: get to the landing page at your convenience

00:30:08 Donna Brooke: Could you sharpen focus on your screen?

00:32:47 Roxanna: Logitech is working for my mouse

00:33:15 Dianne nichols: Love that foot.

00:33:19 Leiann: My favorite 1/4" foot to use!!

00:33:50 Debra Clark: Bought that foot after the first Getaway. Haven't used yet.

00:39:53 cara dorn: lease show me the two basting stitches

00:40:01 TroyJennene Gibbs: Joy - he asked the question from MARY in the chat

00:41:05 Dee from New Hampshire: Love Ultrasoft fusible!!

00:41:05 Darlene Simmons: I love Ultra Soft Fusible. I've been using it in ITH Table toppers. Awesome product

00:41:22 Sue Cleek: I always use Ultra Soft fusible for wall hangings, place mats, etc.

00:43:48 carole: Both of those classes are great!

00:44:04 Myrtie: where are those classes located

00:44:08 Linda Nash - Lulu Little: Where are those classes located?

00:44:17 Linda Nash - Lulu Little: Thank you.

00:44:24 Arlene Kelsey: Thank you guys for doing that for us!!!!!!

00:44:24 Kim Harrington: SewED.com

00:45:15 Michelle Kaufman: Beautiful! Mike you are talented!

00:45:37 Kim Harrington: 🤔

00:46:33 Robin: Where do you guys find the time with your busy schedules?

00:47:50 Mary: Please adjust the focus on your camera. It looks a little blurry. Thanks

00:47:55 Joy: Can we eliminate the markers at the end of each E2E quilt pattern?

00:48:11 Sharee Grasse: it's fine here

00:48:11 Michelle Kaufman: It's clear for me

00:48:13 carole: Looks fine here

00:48:17 Tim&Sherry Ernsperger: Mine is clear

00:48:17 Debra Yates Formoso: It's not blurry here

00:48:20 nancykeetch: It's clear for me.

00:48:20 Lori Wesley: it is fine for me

00:48:21 Glenda Marsh: NOT BLURRY ON MY END!

00:48:23 Arlene Kelsey: looks great for me

00:48:25 Tracy Coffman: it looks good to me too

00:48:34 ellenrudd: Its just a tiny nbith pixelated. I have fiber optic cable.

00:48:34 Debbie Schmidt: Its clear

00:48:39 Dianne nichols: Fine at my end

00:48:45 Robin: looks great to me.

00:48:52 Nancy Nelson: My picture is great

00:52:02 Dianne nichols: Blurry

00:52:13 Debra Clark: the side camera seemed clearer

00:52:14 TroyJennene Gibbs: I can read the words - so that is OKAY

00:54:35 Michelle Kaufman: yes

00:54:36 Colleen n Ron: perfect

00:54:39 Robin: yes

00:54:40 Leiann: yes

00:54:45 carole: good

00:54:49 Audrey Flock: looks much better!

00:55:11 Sharon Vaulman: very blurry for me now

00:55:54 Cathy: yes

00:55:57 Kim Harrington: I was noticing those numbers on the right changed when you changed the hoop size.

00:55:57 Leiann: much better!

00:56:08 Robin: actually better before

00:56:33 Nancy Goodman: much better

00:57:04 Valerie Hebert Jennings: Mine was better before

00:57:44 Sharon Vaulman: me too. Can't read anything

00:58:23 karen ouhrabka: How did you find where it was saved?

00:58:43 Teresa: Better before for me too.

01:01:29 TroyJennene Gibbs: love the DIME hoop & that is the one I have & it is great

01:01:45 Kim Harrington: I just don't like it if I have to cut appliques or if I have a big project that is heavy. For those I like the BL hoops with the magnets.

01:01:49 Carol: Is it okay to store your magnets on a metal filing cabinet?

01:02:08 Krystal M: The dime hoop has dragged on my machine

01:02:13 TroyJennene Gibbs: with the Babylock magnetic hoop it slows down the machine greatly.

01:02:42 Robin: take care not to pinch your fingers

01:03:08 Laurie: the DIME hoops are great but to support the heavy quilts I use the weightless quilter frame. No slipping.

01:03:26 Colleen n Ron: Surgurical tape

01:03:35 Sue Cleek: DIME suggests you use the plastic cardboard that separates the two hoops as a "carrier" to take your quilt to and from the machine.

01:04:06 Mary B: I love the largest Dime hoop but it does slip.

01:04:22 Nancy Goodman: What size is the DIME frame you are using?

01:05:39 TroyJennene Gibbs: my largest DIME hoop has never slipped on me, but I try not to have too much hang over without supporting it.

01:06:04 Mary B: Maybe something is wrong with mine.

01:09:16 TroyJennene Gibbs: looks lined up pretty good now

01:11:49 Karen Schwieger: mishaps- that's how we learn

01:11:57 ellenrudd: I understand lining it up with borrow left corner & center, but what ar

01:12:03 Dianne nichols: Love how your machine is so quiet. Lol

01:12:21 Krystal M: what tools do you use if you are doing a queen/king quilt to help with drag?

01:12:25 Vicki: could we draw a frame then divide it up into the 4 parts? just to help line it up with the design

01:12:33 Glenda Marsh: On my NICU coverlets I've started selecting a shape from IQ & assign stitches & stitch into the borders.....since I cannot get border function to line up properly..

01:12:47 ellenrudd: I get lining up with left bottom & center. So are you leaving the left side unquilted?

01:12:51 Robin: You're not using your w foot?

01:13:21 TroyJennene Gibbs: oh no, she's gone

01:13:25 TroyJennene Gibbs: back

01:13:43 Cindy Petzold: much better

01:13:55 Joy: Can we get rid of the registration marks and replace them with a manual frexion mark or something?

01:16:36 ellenrudd: See it

01:19:16 Lyn Sellers: Turn off the machine light

01:19:39 Patsy Drindak: My needle doesn't go down right in the center of the crosshair Why?

01:20:00 Elle: I could see it fine before. Now I cannot see the crosshairs

01:20:30 Patsy Drindak: Thank you!

01:20:33 Lyn Sellers: one of the best tips I learned was to turn off the machine light to see the projector :)

01:22:13 Arlene Kelsey: I am not quite as worried about doing it now !!!!

01:23:00 carole: Could you do this on an appliqué and skip over the appliquéd areas?

01:23:38 Leah: If doing a table runner would you do edge to edge with the short side or the longer side?

01:26:34 Leah: OK Thank you

01:27:44 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: how low does the markers have to be in the hoop when going below the first hooping?

01:29:04 Mike: It just needs to be in the embroidery field

01:29:17 Mike: Page 37 in the manual is the needle calibration.

01:32:12 Cindy Rio: What is the maximum that can be stretched or reduced in the last row?

01:33:59 Nancy Goodman: Thank you, I've run into that problem.

01:35:58 Sandy Haas: If you don't move the fabric enough and the fabric needs more space to embroider, will it well you that the design won't fit into the hoop.

01:40:27 TroyJennene Gibbs: that is nice. Love how larger it looks; so we can change the size to get it bigger by adjusting

01:40:54 Lyn Sellers: looks great !!

01:40:55 TroyJennene Gibbs: love that it is 170% = >great size

01:40:55 Colleen n Ron: Love the fill

01:41:14 Krystal M: Can we get instructions for that feature?

01:41:39 TroyJennene Gibbs: Oh, didn't realize you can't change the size when you use the automated version

01:41:39 Krystal M: awesome

01:41:46 TroyJennene Gibbs: I'll have to try that this week

01:43:06 TroyJennene Gibbs: love that design - just viewed that online in one of the babylock FB groups.

01:45:38 Kim Harrington: This is very helpful!

01:46:12 TroyJennene Gibbs: this is in-valuable - I want to do this technique

01:50:23 Leni Herman: So very informative! Amazing machine!

01:50:57 Leah: Love this way to connect designs

01:51:12 Krystal M: Thank you. Very helpful.

01:51:12 Robin: This is great, being to use the IQ Designer fills!

01:51:12 TroyJennene Gibbs: I like this better.

01:51:13 Colleen n Ron: Wow that's a lot of knowledge

01:51:19 Leah: i just need to find time to play more.

01:51:20 cara dorn: Amazing. What a machine. Fun

01:51:34 Glenda Marsh: yep never used it BUT how cool is this!

01:51:45 Arlene Kelsey: learned this at the destiny getaway.. worked first time I did it

01:52:22 Robin: Shows me I need to used more features of the machine i.e., play!

01:52:33 Kim Harrington: I was very intimidated with it when I had the Ellisimo!

01:52:58 Linda Nash - Lulu Little: Does the Solaris 3 Visionary have more edge-to-edge?

01:53:07 Leah: Nope never walk away from my machine :)

01:53:26 Robin: U'm with Leah

01:53:26 Leni Herman: OMG ! Game Changer! Thank you for these webinars!

01:53:39 Cathy M: Great info on edge to edge

01:54:28 Kim Harrington: Beautiful!

01:58:27 Kim Harrington: I didn't realize you could do it this way

02:00:09 Robin: I'm uncertain about those tools

02:01:30 Mike: What questions do you have Robin?

02:01:57 Mike: You can not change the defaults when it comes to the eraser.

02:01:58 karen ouhrabka: What exactly does the magic wand do?

02:02:19 Mike: The magic wand is a selection tool that will choose an entire shape.

02:02:28 Robin: I should have said I'm intimidated about the tools.

02:03:14 Mike: Gotcha, It's understandable, but remember that you have the undo and redo key, so don't be scared to play. The more you play, the more comfortable you will become.

02:03:44 Robin: Thanks!

02:05:45 karen ouhrabka: Yess

02:05:50 Kim Harrington: It's like magic!

02:06:29 cara dorn: Could I stamp a flower from a embroidery design?

02:06:39 Mike: You sure could!!

02:06:57 Glenda Marsh: is that orange a felt?

02:07:01 Mike: It is

02:17:08 Judy Welch: does she have applique fabric on the back?

02:17:26 Mike: No, just the felt

02:19:08 Kim Harrington: No stabilizer?

02:19:39 Kim Harrington: Gotcha!

02:19:47 karen ouhrabka: What makes the shine on top of flowers

02:19:47 Laurie: Benzie Designs has great wool and wool blend felt.

02:20:04 Mike: Thanks Laurie. We will have to check them out.

02:20:52 Kim Harrington: yes

02:23:03 Colleen n Ron: I would working smart not lazy.

02:24:08 Sue Cleek: Actually you could come to my house and I have about 3 yards of orange craft felt!! LOL!

02:24:08 Robin: I think Judy was asking about applique on the front for each flower

02:24:48 Mike: So it is a layer of fabric, layer of felt and another layer of fabric.

02:25:11 ellenrudd: Is there any overlap between what is taught in these classes & the projects in the IQ Sew Ed book or is the book mostly different from these projects?

02:26:02 nancykeetch: These are awesome sessions.

02:26:14 Mike: Break until 3:25

02:39:23 Glenda Marsh: great so far!

02:41:23 Elle: I popped my bunny out of the hoop...

02:44:02 Carolyn Sippel: My felt is smaller - 9x12 sheets. Can I serge the felt sheets together (2 thread flatlock) or will the flatlock show on the finished flower?

02:44:15 Kimber Peterson: Love the felt idea!

02:45:12 karen ouhrabka: Is there a tulle on top?

02:45:18 Mike: Nope

02:46:00 Robin: good ol' 18 :)

02:46:23 Mike: Everyone is familiar with #18 right, LOL

02:51:19 Tim&Sherry Ernsperger: 18 what lol

02:52:04 Kim Harrington: I have no clue...

02:52:11 Kimber Peterson: Didn't you do a tack down first?

02:52:53 Cathy M: Leaf shape 18 was used in last months project

02:53:15 Kim Harrington: There is no tack down because she has fabric on top already

02:53:28 Mike: Yep - shape 18 is the leaf - bunny ears and carrot - now using as an actual leaf.

02:53:43 Robin: Is this not all in B+W?

02:53:46 Kim Harrington: OH! Now I remember! LOL Carrots, ears,

02:54:07 Tim&Sherry Ernsperger: Thanks. I haven't got to watch it yet 😊

02:54:16 Kimber Peterson: Got it!

02:54:59 Colleen n Ron: I like that better

02:56:21 Robin: That orientation took is great!

02:56:46 Robin: typos!

02:57:22 Robin: Typos!

02:58:54 Kim Harrington: That is what I used for my fence on the bunny project

02:59:33 Robin: Wish I had thought of that!

03:00:33 Kim Harrington: That really looks like it has perspective like the vase in the finished piece!

03:01:52 Kim Harrington: Didn't know you could do that either!

03:05:31 Mike: Well, it could, but there are times 100% is correct.

03:06:52 Debra Clark: I love all your expressions that go back to my parents' day. 😊

03:07:16 Arlene Kelsey: just making sure the making of the applique sequence is in the directions, right?

03:07:29 Mike: Yes they are

03:07:33 Darlene Simmons: I like your sample

03:07:57 Arlene Kelsey: 🥰

03:08:08 Cathy M: Couldn't we use steam a seam tape?

03:08:28 Mike: as long as you know they are in the correct place before you steam it.

03:09:24 Glenda Marsh: Hot Fix!!

03:09:52 Cathy M: Yes, bling would make this over the top!

03:09:58 TroyJennene Gibbs: The center circle of the flower could be done with buttons - large circular buttons

03:10:06 Krystal M: what else can we use besides felt?

03:10:41 Cathy M: I love the digital dual feed foot for quilting

03:10:47 Kim Harrington: LOVE

03:10:47 Mike: You can use batting if you are okay with seeing it. You can also use wool or something like that.

03:10:48 Leiann: me

03:10:51 carole woehlke: LOVE IT

03:10:54 Joy: It's great!

03:10:55 Lori Wesley: I do

03:10:56 Glenda Marsh: I was JUST going to say...LOVE IT!!

03:11:06 Nancy Nelson: Love

03:11:13 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: I love it compared to the original one

03:11:54 Barbara: I always seem to get fabric hung up under the dual feed

03:12:05 Cathy M: I use my DDF so often, I purchased the new compact DDF.....

03:12:27 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: instead of cutting out stem couldn't we use the tapering stitches?

03:12:30 carole woehlke: I see alot of grayed out stitches when I attach the DDF

03:12:32 Arlene Kelsey: haven't actually used it yet...except during solaris getaway. good to use again to make sure I remember how.. you guys both are VERY inspiring and GREAT teachers

03:12:38 TroyJennene Gibbs: I still have the original DDF, haven't used it enough to consider the new one

03:12:56 Nancy Nelson: Good

03:13:09 Kim Harrington: I can see it on your stylus

03:13:16 Colleen n Ron: yes

03:13:16 Leiann: I do not have the compact one yet. But I do use the regular one a lot!

03:15:36 Barbara: thank you!!!!

03:16:39 Carolyn Sippel: Does the compact digital dual feed foot take the same attachments (1/4 inch seam, open toe, couching, etc) as the original digital dual feed foot or do you have to buy new attachments?

03:16:43 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: Is there stabilizer under the stems?

03:18:51 Robin: I assume that is an 80/14 needle

03:19:08 TroyJennene Gibbs: Patty - you are sewing down the center only? or outside leaf also

03:19:23 Robin: OK:)

03:19:59 TroyJennene Gibbs: very organic . . . nice

03:20:03 Kim Harrington: Beautiful hummingbird in my window!

03:20:32 Cathy M: yes, I can interchange all my DDF feet between the 2 different models

03:21:46 Colleen n Ron: Holy Moly Patty what a incredible class and project!!!! Have different flowers floating in my brain for this vase. I LOVE THIS THANK YOU and Mike so much.

03:22:14 kfoxworthsews@yahoo.com: do you need to sew the flowers down before stitching the centers? Is it possible to sew centers and flowers at the same time?

03:23:37 TroyJennene Gibbs: oh yes, have wool roving from the knitting store - just waiting for a cause

03:24:01 Kim Harrington:How? I have tons of it. I do felting both by hand and with the embellisher.

03:24:04 carole woehlke:For felting animals!

03:25:16 Kim Harrington:Mine told me that yesterday!

03:27:46 Lisa Nalean: Were we supposed to get an email for this today? I didn't. Clicked on the link for last month and to get to this.

03:28:01 Mike: You will get it after class

03:28:04 Kim Harrington:I got one on the 20th

03:28:20 Mike: are you talking about instructions?

03:28:34 Lisa Nalean: Yes Mike.

03:28:44 TroyJennene Gibbs: The notices about upcoming class came out - I got mine

03:29:09 Kim Harrington:Oh I thought you meant the link for class

03:29:10 TroyJennene Gibbs: only thing out there so far, LISA is the supply list for today's class

03:29:25 Robin: That is lovely!

03:29:28 Mike: <https://babylock.com/advanced-solaris-getaway>

03:29:51 Kim Harrington:I love the projector!

03:30:16 ellenrudd: Are you going to show stitching with that wool roving? I don't know what it is!! Ir how to saw it.

03:31:51 TroyJennene Gibbs: PATTY, how did you keep the foot from moving all over the other dimensional flowers & getting stuck?

03:32:18 Kim Harrington:I am going to make some round circles with my embellisher :)

03:34:39 Kim Harrington:Love the flowers!

03:35:40 nancykeetch: Thank you for sewing the Wool roving as I am not familiar with it either.

03:36:04 TroyJennene Gibbs: thanks for taking the extra steps

03:37:56 Arlene Kelsey: love that "collection" word..new one for my husband lol
