FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Established Employment Immigration Firm Announces New Name, Partner and Expansion to Immigration Litigation

Cleveland, Ohio --- May 4, 2020: Sharon & Kálnoki LLC is a full-service immigration law practice headquartered in Independence, Ohio. The firm is proud to announce that nationally recognized immigration litigator, Scott E. Bratton, is joining the new firm as a partner to bring a depth of court experience to their platform. The newly named firm, MJB Immigration - Martin, Jolic and Bratton, will continue to provide clients with exceptional representation in all aspects of United States immigration law, and now will provide expanded access to a wide-ranging practice area within all facets of immigration litigation.

The firm was founded in 2000 by attorneys Michael Sharon and Aniko Kálnoki, two of the most distinguished immigration attorneys in the United States. Over the years, the firm has grown into a boutique immigration law firm with an unmatched reputation for expertise in the area of employment and family-based immigration law. The firm is now managed by two partners: a woman Stacy E. Martin (née Cozart) and a Slovenian-born naturalized citizen, Michael M. Jolic.

According to Managing Partner Stacy Martin, “MJB Immigration will now represent clients in all aspects of immigration litigation; Scott Bratton has decades of experience litigating immigration cases from the agency to the Circuit Courts.” Partner Michael Jolic adds “By announcing the new name and partnership, we will continue to represent our corporate and individual clients with integrity, passion of representation, and excellence in client service. We will now complement our practice by including an experienced courtroom and appellate litigator. Stacy and I are thrilled that Scott will be joining our team.”

“With this venture, we will improve the legal services we offer our clients, and expand our services to new clients,” said Scott Bratton, Partner. “I have known Stacy and Michael for decades, and they have an excellent reputation as a boutique employment immigration law firm, offering exceptional representation to clients across the United States and beyond,” continues Bratton. “I am thrilled to partner with this experienced team and work together to offer expanded representation to all clients in all geographic areas.”

MJB will continue to offer free and now virtual consultations in light of COVID-19. Please call 216.328.9878 to schedule your consultation today.
