Professionalism Ethics and Civility

ABOTA is an organization that requires its members to be responsible for elevating the standards of integrity, honor, ethics, civility and courtesy in the legal profession. Members cultivate a spirit of camaraderie and fellowship among each other and work to encourage and advance civility in the practice of law. ABOTA's Code of Professionalism and Principles of Civility, Integrity and Professionalism provide a guide of proper conduct for lawyers.

ABOTA recently produced a new program called Civility Matters, an effort to promote the first specific purpose in ABOTA's constitution: "To elevate the standards of integrity, honor and courtesy in the legal profession." ABOTA created "Civility Matters" with the hope that the program would be presented at all ABOTA educational activities, other bar and professional programs, and, especially, in every law school in the country.

The Civility Matters publication — Why Civility and Why Now? — and accompanying DVDs are available through ABOTA and provide all the resources needed to host a Civility Matters session, as well as guidelines for doing so.

ABOTA Chapters host and promote successful Civility Matters programs across the country. The programs feature first-hand lessons learned and experiences of ABOTA members who've successfully implemented these programs in the past and offered their wisdom during its development. Much appreciation goes to these members.
