B.C. COVID-19 Update – May 19, 2020

New Updates:

Dr. Henry and Minister Dix Public Health Update (release here)

General updates:

- Health authorities have started all non-essential surgeries
- Province is not putting in place regulations, rather guidelines for businesses to follow and model based off their business.
- Dr. Henry and Minister Dix reiterated that hate crimes have no place in our society. We need to condemn them specifically and always.

Economic recovery:

- Today begins Phase Two of BC's economic recovery phase. Minister Dix said that "our comfort zones will determine how we will safely participate in Phase Two."
- Businesses must have a plan in place with guidance provided by WorkSafe BC (coming out in a few days).
- Businesses can follow up with Environmental Health Officers regarding concerns over guidelines.
- BC received PPE shipments from the federal government and also from donations – Minister Dix says they are feeling well equipped.

Travel update:

- Regarding those coming into BC, Dr. Henry said "no, we don't believe it is practical to have restrictions at the border."
- There are still restrictions in place for those who have worked in work camps in Alberta.
- Dr. Henry said that there needs to be a way to improve reuniting families across the border and ensure that individuals can still self-isolate

Pandemic pay supports front-line health, social service workers (release here)

- Health and social service workers delivering in-person, front-line care to some of B.C.'s most vulnerable people will receive a financial boost through temporary COVID-19 pandemic pay.
- More than 250,000 eligible front-line workers will receive temporary pandemic pay, a lump-sum payment of about $4 per hour for a 16-week period, starting on March 15, 2020. Eligible workers will receive the payment directly through their employer and do not need to apply.
