Delaware Trial Lawyers Association
Affidavit of Eligibility for Regular or Public Defender Membership

The DTLA Bylaws were amended by the Membership in June 2010 to require that all attorneys applying for or renewing as Regular Members or Public Defender Members complete and return the following notarized affidavit of eligibility for regular membership.

Please note that the definition of Regular Member is as follows: "A person is not eligible to be a Regular Member if one-third (33.33%) or more of his or her practice consists of representing insurance companies or defendants in personal injury, medical negligence, product liability, or workers' compensation matters."

A Public Defender Member is defined as an attorney "who, for the most part, represents plaintiffs or criminal defendants" and can "certify that less than one-third (33.33%) of his or her practice consists of representing insurance companies or defendants in personal injury, medical negligence, product liability, or workers' compensation matters."

_____ I certify that I am eligible to be a Regular Member or Public Defender Member of DTLA.
