

New kicks, from one student to another

Special to the Press-Citizen

As part of its Justice In Deed initiative, the Iowa Association for Justice collected new sneakers from its members at a recent seminar for Iowa trial lawyers. The donations were delivered to children in need at Lucas Elementary in Iowa City. This donation drive is IAJ's latest Justice In Deed project, which links trial lawyers with community organizations to assist hard-pressed families who are struggling because of the flagging economy. Davis Foster and David Burbidge are attorneys practicing in family law in Iowa City and members of the Iowa Association for Justice. The Lucas student council came to accept the donation on behalf of the school. From left to right are Davis Foster, IAJ member; Anna Roerman, Robert Lucas student council member; Allen Whittmann, Robert Lucas student council member; Ben Morony, Robert Lucas student council member; David Burbidge, IAJ member. If you have a group photo, send a JPEG to life@press-citizen.com. Please identify everyone in the photo.