CONTRIBUTOR & ARTICLE OF THE YEAR AWARDS

Beginning in 2004, the Nashville Bar Journal Editorial Committee presents two categories of awards—Contributor of the Year and Article of the Year. These awards aim to recognize our outstanding committee members and authors who continually make the Nashville Bar Journal a source of pride for our bar association.

The Article of the Year award recognizes excellence in research and writing and is presented annually to the author (must be NBA member) of a substantive article published in the Nashville Bar Journal during the current year while exhibiting originality, relevance to the local legal community, and timeliness.

The Contributor of the Year award honors the Nashville Bar Journal Editorial Committee member(s) who displayed the highest level of continuous dedication to the success of the Nashville Bar Journal during the current year. This award is not necessarily presented every year, but only when a deserving individual is to be recognized.
