GEORGE M. THOMAS:

On the day of , 1938, our widely known and amiable brother member of the Bar, George M. Thomas, passed from this life and entered upon his eternal rest.

His passing is a distinct loss to the Nashville Bar and its membership. For many years he worked in our midst and his amiable disposition and his ability to work in harmony both in association and opposition to his brother members of the Bar has caused the memory of this good brother to be enshrined in the hearts of the members of the Nashville Bar.

Among his many sterling qualities of character George Thomas possessed one which we feel is so outstanding as to be worthy of special note, such was the cheerfulness of his very pleasant nature that he never heaped adverse criticism upon his fellowman. Always he had a kindly word for those with whom he came in contact whether the relationships had been pleasant or unpleasant. In the tribulations, perplexities and trials that beset the daily existence of every practising attorney this is indeed a splendid trait of character, indicative of the self-control that marks the gentleman from the ordinary man. George Thomas far preferred to remain silent than to criticize his fellowman and particularly a fellow member of the Bar.

Therefore, it is with genuine regret that the Nashville Bar Association and its membership deeply deplores the loss of this good brother from our ranks and extends to his family our deepest sympathy in the hope that the memory of the tolerance toward others that was his might be a blessing that will inspire us to pursue this same noble characteristic.

BE IT, THEREFORE, RESOLVED, That the members of the Nashville Bar Association do hereby express their deep sense of loss in the passing of this brother lawyer and do hereby direct that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Nashville Bar Association, and a copy thereof forwarded to his family.

This 10th day of March, 1939.
