

JOEL W. BAILEY

As a native San Diegan, I believe we practice in the best place in the world. As a practicing attorney for over 26 years, I've made North County San Diego my home. I have had the privilege to practice Criminal Defense and some limited family law from my office across from the court in Vista. Over the years, I have always enjoyed the close-knit community, and the North County Bar Association effectively provides the professional connection I rely upon to learn and share ideas that directly affect our practices and way of life. I believe having a close relationship with my attorney peers, as well as the judges and the local public is critical to a successful and healthy practice of law.

My wife and I, along with teenaged daughter, live in La Costa and have enjoyed bar meetings and interacting with the legal community, and I've always wanted to increase my participation with the Bar. I believe I can contribute to the Bar Association with my vision, energy and commitment to further the interests of our profession while maintaining a connection with the bench and the public in our unique community. Our local bar association is an excellent conduit to connect the public, attorneys and judges to exchange information, help each other and create and shape a vision for the future. I would be honored to serve on our Board of Directors and appreciate your consideration and vote.

I am so excited at the possibility of returning to the board of directors! I previously served one term as a board member and have served multiple terms as co-Chair of the Trusts and Estates Section. After attending bar functions for over 20 years, I have developed a genuine appreciation for the camaraderie of this wonderful group of practitioners. If elected to serve, I will strive to develop programs that are both educational and enjoyable and further develop resources to enhance the local practice of law. As one of the original members of the bar foundation advisory committee, I will also seek to reinstate fundraising activities to generate funds to distribute to charitable organizations that advance legal education and services in North County. Thank you for considering my candidacy!

DAVID DORIA

I practice trust and estate law at an Oceanside firm founded in the 1940's. The firm has instilled in me a true sense of obligation to give back to the community that has supported us for almost eighty years. While not so long in the tooth myself (sworn into practice in 2017), I believe a fresh set of eyes is exactly what we need during these unprecedented times. I hope to use a position on the Board to encourage local firms and courts alike to implement technologies and procedures that provide broader access to the legal system, while also increasing safety through social distancing. More broadly, I look forward to encouraging and preserving the sense of professional comradery that makes North County the final stop for so many talented attorneys. Thank you for considering me for this opportunity.

KIM JAMES

I have been practicing family law exclusively since 1998, starting first as a paralegal and then stepping into the role of an attorney in 2012.

My passion is to assist clients during one of the most devastating times of their life by dedicating countless hours to supporting them both emotionally and legally through their family law matters. Although I started my own practice in 2019, I take pride in remaining close with colleagues with whom I have previously worked, as I believe collaborating with your colleagues can be one of your greatest assets in thoroughly working a case. Secondary to advocating for clients, I am also passionate about volunteering in both a legal and non-legal capacity. I have volunteered at Law Day, Youth in Court, Fil-A-Belly, Interfaith, Felicity Vida, and various other community service projects throughout North County. I believe it is important to give back to our community and I hope to continue to do so as a Director with the North County Bar Association. As a director, it is my desire to be active in planning continuing education and establishing events and seminars to promote camaraderie and collaboration between colleagues and the Bar. I look forward to the opportunity to offer my time and talents as a director. Thank you for your consideration and support.

ERIC D. NORVELL

Since I moved to San Diego in 2016, the North County Bar Association has perhaps shown itself to be the most welcoming organization of which I've ever been a part. It is a group that deserves to have its generosity repaid, and to do so, I am asking to be elected to the Board of Directors of the NCBA. I can offer simple things: ideas for CLEs, personal presentations, and anecdotes and war stories about the law. However, I aspire that my main contribution be collaboration with fellow attorneys on the Board and in the organization. Given that we all now have to learn to work together while working apart, I want to facilitate communications and events, whatever form they take, with my fellow members to ensure that the organization is achieving what its members want and to discern what that actually is for today and for the next few years. The law (and frankly the world) is in a reinvention/rediscovery phase. I would like to play a little part by helping the NCBA along in these times. Thank you for your ear and your vote.

ASSLY SAYYAR

Shortly after moving to California in 2012, I put down roots here in North County, San Diego by joining the NCBA. As a solo practicing attorney, I wanted the connection and camaraderie of working with my fellow attorneys. Through NCBA, I met some of my good friends, my current business and referral partners and colleagues, have grown my practice, and was introduced to the judges that also call North County home. I have not had a direct leadership role in NCBA before beyond being a member, but have acted as the Lawyers Club of San Diego's liaison to the NCBA in 2018-2019 and was honored to be the recipient of the 2015 Lawyers Club North County Community Service Award annually given at the NCBA June Dinner meeting. I have served on other committees with Lawyers Club, including the North County Committee and the Bylaws and Policy Committee. I have and still serve as president of the local Soroptimist International of Vista & North County Inland non-profit. I am a member of the American Inns of Court. For me "putting down roots" means giving back through service to the organizations that I care about and that help improve our profession and our community. I am honored to be considered for a position of Director and will bring my skills of organization, business acumen, problem-solving, creativity, and leadership to the Board if I am chosen to serve.
