Modest Means Program

PLEASE READ BEFORE COMPLETING APPLICATION

The Modest Means program is a reduced fee referral program designed to make legal services accessible to lower and moderate income people who are ineligible for legal aid. The Modest Means panel is for family law cases only. Below is a menu of services that may be taken by a Modest Means attorney. Please note that each legal issue listed below is a separate case and will be treated as different cases and will require different Modest Means agreements. Attorneys who accept Modest Means referrals agree to enter into a written retainer agreement with the referred client and agree to charge no more than $75 per hour with an initial deposit of $1,000. After the initial $1,000 is exhausted, you will be required to prepay additional monies. It is the decision of the attorney to decide how much that is. Please be aware that this is not a flat fee service. Please note an attorney has the right to refuse your case at any time, or decide the case is too complex for the Modest Means program, or decline if they feel they cannot represent you adequately. It is the discretion of the attorney to decide this and not the program. Also, all services and fees are between the client and the assigned attorney and not the responsibility of the program. Attorneys on the Modest Means program are private attorneys who have agreed to take some cases at a reduced price. They are not government or Legal Aid attorneys.
