

Welcome to the Texas AGD Team, Erin!

AUSTIN, Texas - (October 17, 2018) – We would like to welcome to our team Erin Taylor, as the Education Program Specialist! She comes to us with over 15 years of experience in education, from teaching both at a corporate and college level to implementing career development programs at both public and non-profit institutions.

As part of the education division team, Erin will enhance the continuing education programs for members at the Texas AGD with the guidance of the Education Committee. She will work closely with the team and volunteer leaders to implement the New Dentist Conference, Lone Star Dental Conference and MasterTrack® Program. In addition, she will coordinate the educational offerings for our online programs. Her goal is to ensure the educational vision of our organization will truly help general dentists succeed.

Erin enjoys learning, traveling and hiking, recently traveling to Colorado for just those reasons. Originally from South Africa, Erin is married to a Costa Rican, and together they have a lovely daughter and four furry troublemakers who keep the household happy, lively and on its toes. Erin holds a Master's in Applied Linguistics from the University of Massachusetts-Boston.
