

TTLA Announces Trial Lawyer of the Year Award Recipient

Attorney Brandon Bass Recognized

On June 16, 2017, at its Annual Convention, the Tennessee Trial Lawyers Association, named Nashville attorney Brandon Bass, the recipient of the TTLA Trial Lawyer of the Year Award. The award is for a trial lawyer who is an advocate of a noble cause, and who demonstrated superior skills and achieved an outstanding result for a client against great obstacles.

Brandon has had hundreds of successful results include representing victims of medical negligence, child sexual abuse, and tractor-trailer collisions. He is the author of multiple articles published nationally by Trial Magazine and other publications, and has given more than a hundred CLE speeches throughout the Southeast. Brandon is a Shareholder with the Law Offices of John Day, P.C. He graduated from Purdue University and the University of Tennessee College of Law.

Brandon serves on the Board of Governors for the Tennessee Trial Lawyers Association. He chaired the organization's Amicus Curiae Committee, drafting legal arguments on appellate issues important to injury victims, and has served on its Membership, Legislative, and Publications Committees. He is an active member of the American Association for Justice and the Tennessee Bar Association, having worked on the Board of Governors for both groups' New Lawyers Divisions.
